MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: the first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, APRIL 21, 1894.

AMONG the bills now pending at Albany is one which specially deserves the support of the Senators and Assemblymen from this city. It is a bill to amend the 8th Ward Improvement act by authorizing the Commissioner of Works to ascertain and pay damages to property-owners arising from changes in the legally-established grades of the streets. The occasion which gave rise to the bill is as follows: Some twenty small property-owners in 45th and 46th streets built homes upon their lots at various times prior to last summer, building in conformity to the then existing grades of the streets. One of the streets had already been graded and curbed, but as to both of them there were clearly defined legal grades. Upon a resurvey of the hill upon which their properties are situated the authorities found that the general expense of grading and improving the streets, avenues and private property would be greatly lessened by raising the grades of 45th and 46th streets, and this was done. As a result, all of the properties mentioned have been left far below the new grades. The values of the houses have been seriously impaired thereby, as the owners claim, and they united in a petition to the authorities to restore the properties to the condition they were in before the grades of their streets were changed. The Mayor and his cabinet, upon investigation, conceded the justice of the petition but found the city powerless to grant it. The present bill, which was drafted in the Corporation Counsel's office and has the support of the authorities, is intended to give the Commissioner of Works that power.

Rapid Transit and Consolidation.

CAN Brooklyn afford to view with indifference the efforts of a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and some other misguided or self-seeking persons to saddle a $50,000,000 underground railroad scheme on the City of New York? Assuming, for the sake of argument that, notwithstanding the opposition of the New York authorities and the larger street railroad companies, the Chamber of Commerce bill is likely to become a law, can it be that Brooklyn's interests are in no way involved in it? We can look upon it only as a flagrant oversight that Brooklyn has not already spoken upon this subject.

The principal motive for the effort to pass the Chamber of Commerce bill springs from the desire to promote the growth of New York City northward, towards the interior of the State, rather than laterally towards the seashore and the Jersey hills. It is an effort to overcome by artificial means the natural tendency of the spread of the population of the metropolis. That natural tendency, as has been amply demonstrated, is along the lines of least resistance, and these have been found to radiate from the business districts of New York City toward all the points of the compass, and not alone towards the north.

Years ago the lines leading towards the north became congested chiefly because the natural barriers across the other lines had not been overcome. The building of the Brooklyn Bridge and the establishing of new and faster ferry lines partly overcame these latter barriers, and the stream of population began to flow towards Brooklyn, so that the growth of Brooklyn in the last decade has been at a faster rate than that even of New York. More recently the vast improvement of the suburban railroad facilities in New Jersey, with new depots, new and faster ferry boats and greatly increased capacity, have made the New Jersey lines the lines of least resistance, and these have been gaining on both New York and Brooklyn. Now comes an interested faction from New York with a proposition to invoke the authority of the State to compel the unwilling metropolis to build a road for their accommodation, to build up their properties, and to divert the stream of population from Brooklyn and Long Island and New Jersey towards Yonkers.

The same Legislature which is asked to enact this piece of autocratic law has already placed upon the statute books a measure which is in spirit and purpose its exact antithesis. This is the act submitting to the referendum the question of Consolidation. The purpose of this act is the political unification of a community that has everything else in common except its systems of municipal government. The fact that these have always been diverse and to some degree antagonistic has been the chief incentive toward divergent growth. Had there been but one government for these cities from the beginning, can any one doubt but that the natural ties that bind them would have been supplemented by the art of man—by more bridges, perhaps by tunnels, and by the extension of the park system towards the sea rather than towards the interior?

But the Consolidation bill is not arbitrary in its operation, it does no violence to the principle of home rule, but leaves to the people to decide whether it shall become operative. So ought it to be with the Chamber of Commerce rapid transit bill also, if it is to become a law at this session of the Legislature. Let the bill provide for a vote by the people upon the question of municipal construction and ownership. The preservation, inviolate, of the principle of home rule, is worth all the delay there would be required, besides which the people would have the whole issue before them, and could make their choice between Consolidation and the Underground Railroad. Better than this would be to let the rapid transit matter go over to another Legislature. Let us vote first upon Consolidation. Should that prevail, as we believe it will, and by a decisive majority, the rapid transit question will take on a new form and significance. The Greater New York will view it from a different ground than does now the Insular New York. What now appears to be to the disadvantage of the degenerating metropolis would then be clearly to the great advantage of the recruited, enlarged and vastly strengthened Greater New York. Let the People then vote upon the question of municipal construction of an underground or other great rapid transit road—but laid out upon a different route—a route that shall bind the two communities in a still greater and stronger union, that shall pass over or under the East River at many points, and shall ramify the broad and healthful and picturesque regions of western Long Island, which nature has destined for the homes of a myriad people. Let the People vote also upon more bridges to span the East River, and upon boulevards, speedways, parkways, hill parks and seaside parks—not to extend the growth of the city along narrow, congested and unheathful lines of communication, where the greater the growth the greater will be the congestion—but towards the ocean boundaries first and thence towards the easterly extension of Long Island, where there is room for infinite growth, and for many multiplications of rapid transit lines radiating from the common centre of the whole metropolitan district—Manhattan Island.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

Commissioner White, of the Department of City Works, has yielded to the entreaties of the property-owners and builders of the 24th Ward and decided to grade and pave Kingston avenue, from Fulton to Douglass street. This avenue, one of the direct outlets of the 24th Ward, has been in a disgraceful and dangerous condition, little better than a country road, causing much annoyance to property-owners and builders and has been the means of holding back improvements to property situated in one of the most attractive sections of the city.

The Board of Assessors confirmed and sent to the Department of City Works on Thursday the assessment for widening North 2d street, which immediately became a lien. The total amount of the assessment is $322,000. One-half of this sum is to be borne by the city at large, one-quarter on property on the line of the street for 100 feet on either side, and one-quarter on a large district of assessment. This is the first time the assessment for this improvement, which has been pending for many years, has been filed.

Registrar of Arrears Himrichs stated on Monday last that the total amount received from the arrears of taxes and assessment sale last week was $70,750. The next sale will take place on Wednesday. The Registrar has thus far sold property in the first five wards and in the 22d Ward. Which ward he proposes to take next he declines to announce.

The City Hall has been measured for electric lights, to be placed in position by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

City Works Commissioner White proposes to have the vacant plot adjoining the Municipal Building, owned by the city, converted into a park until it shall be used as a site for a public building. He is co-operating with Park Commissioner Squier. They will ask the Board of Aldermen for aid in the matter.

The question of a site for the Jamaica Normal School has at last been settled. The State Commissioners at Albany unanimously agreeing upon the plot offered by ex-Gov. McCormick, which was recommended by State Superintendent of Public Instruction James F. Crooker. The site is to cost $10,000, which sum is to be raised by the town, the State furnishing the money, $100,000, with which to build the school.

At a conference held between the Terminal Committee of the Bridge Trustees and representatives of the Kings County and Brooklyn Elevated Railroads, several proposed changes in the new terminal structure were discussed, but no final settlement was made. The present elevated terminus will be removed and the work on the new structure pushed as rapidly forward as possible.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—For Common Hards the market has made no further gain this week, and some operators do not think the little improvement noted in our last is fully sustained. The trouble with the position is that just now no important addition to the demand is secured, and the supplies are not well controlled so that it is difficult to get a satisfactory adjustment of the offering to the outlet. This week the offerings have been more liberal, with now and then a cargo upon which owners seemed a trifle anxious to realize, and that made a tame feeling at once. Still when it comes to making up a general range of quotations we find about former figures mentioned, and do not alter our tabulated figures to any important extent. About $5 remains as the average extreme, but exceptional quality is valued somewhat higher Pales are dull and nominally unchanged. According to current run of talk manufacturers are generally giving out that they will not commence producing until May 15th, but as many are under no positive promise they are quite likely to go ahead as soon as weather permits.

CEMENT.—In pretty much all cases operators appear inclined to grumble over the market. The class of structures contemplated in filed plans for the present season and the public work projected will require the consumption of a large quantity of cement, but dealers and contractors do not seem to fear their ability to obtain whatever they may want, at about the time for its use, and are refusing to contract for the future except, possibly, where it is thought desirable to bespeak favorite brands. The low price at which domestic opened has not been changed, but has failed as an attraction to induce either out of town or local dealers to invest, except upon the hand to mouth basis, and buyers also continue to handle foreign stock in quite an indifferent manner, the inferior and unpopular makes meeting with almost positive neglect at the moment. Values are low and can scarcely be expected to harden until general business assumes more satisfactory form. On the 1st of the current month the stock in bond was 18,042 bbls., to which some additions have since been made, but a large percentage of the accumulation is simply awaiting the opening of navigation to move into the interior.

GLASS.—Reports upon the condition of market for cylinder glass are improving somewhat. Both locally and at the west the demand has commenced to show evidence of increasing animation and there is hope of further expansion as the season now becomes more open and opportunities for actual consumption greater. Down to present writing values retain a great deal of the former irregularity, but advices from primal points give evidence of a determination among manufacturers to assume a steadier tone on valuation and get the market into shape for a more respectable margin of profit. There is also a disposition to decide upon some concerted action looking to a better general control of the output. Plate is finding a greater number of friends, although the movement of supplies thus far has been confined principally to small lots wanted by the regular run of custom to maintain working assortments. With the increase of demand there is a stiffening tendency on values.

HARDWARE.—For all kinds of hardware the volume of trading is running behind last year. Actual consumption is undoubtedly smaller, and in addition to that retailers, jobbers, and, indeed, the entire buying element acts with exceeding caution and a determination not to invest beyond the limits of clearly defined necessities. Nevertheless the market as a whole is in better condition than at the commencement of the month, because seasonable influences are tending to increase the "demands of necessity," and to meet that change a call has to be made upon first-hand supplies, the reserve or invisible accumulations having run down to a mere nothing. Staple descriptions of builders' hardware have a full share in the current movement, but fancy grades do not get much attention. There is ample provision to meet the requirements of customers in attendance, and manufacturers would be pleased to demonstrate how quickly they could add to the output were there necessity for so doing. Prices are low all along the line, and old lists and discount sheets have to a certain extent become obsolete, but as business improves there is a tendency to revise and straighten out figures upon something like a uniform basis.

LATH.—Moderate arrivals have placed the market in better position and without quotable change in cost the tone is stronger all around. Some local dealers are in want of stock and out-of-town custom it is said has a place ready for quite an amount, so that there is a natural belief that next cargoes in will find ready sale and especially slab stock.

LIME.—A very good demand prevails for State and other supplies from interior sources with rates kept about steady. Eastern product is moving in a slow unsatisfactory manner, a large accumulation on hand evidently proving annoying, and holders anxious to realize. Parties interested in the Eastern combine report that the principal manufacturer heretofore outside has been taken in, and claim that such action greatly strengthens the situation.

LUMBER.—If there is any change at all in the general local situation it is for the better, but the gain confined solely to an increase in the movement here and there. Some of the yards having a trade in small bills of stuff taken for alterations and repairs are commencing to hear from customers who are getting ready for work that will set in at the turn of the month when the changes of tenants permits the carpenters, etc., to carry out contemplated plans. A little trading has also been done with local furniture people and custom of kindred character, and a few yards favorably situated are even getting an occasional deal with builders. All of which is encouraging, and the hope is that the conditions may continue to steadily improve until the volume reaches something like a really respectable volume. Dealers, however, do not as yet seem to find a degree of encouragement sufficient to induce them to furnish an important demand for bulk lots of stock, and such of the latter as may from time to time be placed secure a position through the energetic and persistent drumming of salesmen, the forcing of some lines of goods, and it is probably almost needless to add the naming of pretty low line of cost.

The finer qualities of stock suffer the greatest neglect just now and the major portion of the dealing is confined to average and coarse qualities. White pine box gets a sort of regular demand from some of the smaller manufacturers, who buying only as they consume afford basis for negotiation at stated intervals, and there is believed to have been some few contracts placed of late with the larger concerns at a price contingent upon tariff changes. There is also a moderate sort of trade in shippers, but most of the large buyers of that kind of stock are pretty well provided for and want to see a larger outlet before venturing upon new investments.

Yellow Pine is somewhat on the waiting list. It would be a pretty difficult matter to place anything in the way of random just now, and while more or less figuring and some actual dealing in specials goes on the business is not vigorous and a feeling of disappointment is plainly noticeable in the general run of reports. At primal points efforts are being made to place affairs upon a solid and uniform footing. The success is not great, however, and rates are kept low through the competition over such business as may be available.

Carolina Pine if dependent upon local trade would not have much of a market, for while some very respectable sized parcels can now and then be placed, the demand does not extend beyond the boundaries of present positive wants of regular custom. Agents, however, who are willing to incur traveling expenses find that personal calls upon dealers at the Eastward and some of the state cities and towns is effective in placing a fair quantity of stock with a prospect of further sales when the canals open. Hemlock is selling also to interior custom in a reasonably satisfactory manner with plenty of stock available for the outlet and rates continue easy all along the line.

Eastern Spruce is still getting some attention on yard bills which are from time to time placed at about former rates, and a few extra difficult are tendered. The latter, however, find rather dragging negotiations as the ideas of buyers are really so low that manufacturers cannot figure out a margin and will not bother much over the matter, believing that there is more money to be made by keeping the logs in boom. What one of the local trade journals called "a good demand" for Virginia Spruce continues. That is, while the quantity offering may not be as great as heretofore, sellers keep pushing and shoving whatever they may have to dispose of and at such easy rates that buyers who can afford it are succumbing to the temptation of making investment. The "demand" has really been for buyers, and at what looked like slaughter prices they were found.

Hardwoods remain dull all along the line. After many months there will be an increased demand for interior trim on some of the large buildings likely to be pushed along this summer, but no preparation is making for that event as yet. A great many manufacturers and pretty much all dealers claim to have on hand a supply quite sufficient for any trade they expect for some time ahead, and traveling salesmen after a few days' experience on this market find the atmosphere of business so chilly that they depart for other localities. It is found that in most cases that former valuations are made for quoting purposes, but the actual trading basis generally gets down to a lower level and in some instances the practical promises of deep cuts on price have been given where large lines were offered. The quantity really pressing, however, is not great and sellers' views would stiffen before only a slight increase of demand.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Chicago Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

In the pine trade the rule has been to sell off as much lumber as possible and trust fortune for a new supply. In the hardwood business yard dealers have gradually filled up their storage room through the winter at low prices, believing that dry stock will sell again within a reasonable time at prices which will yield a profit. In the Northern pine market, aside from a few heavy dealers, who must provide for a large trade even in this period of limited demand, there has been much less than the usual contracting for blocks of product. It is common at this time in the season for large amounts of lumber to be placed under contract, and the mills are busy in cutting so as to get the output into the market as early as possible. But this spring, with little lumber sold, the mills are starting late, and the effort all along the line is more to hinder an early start of production and movement than to urge forward those operations. In the meantime there is consumptive demand sufficient to draw down stocks to a low degree in wholesale and retail yards.

At Minneapolis the outlook for prices for the season is not such as to give encouragement to speculation. There is to be nearly 500,000,000 feet of lumber cut here this season if the logs come down, and never has lumber been manufactured as cheaply here as it will be this year. But the low price of lumber may have its usual effect on trade, and if so, the present condition of the market cannot long continue. The feeling is firmly fixed, however, that prices are now where, if changed at all, they must change for the better.

At Chicago a few cargoes have been sold during the week. They have dropped in from over the lake, mainly from Manistee. Pine and hemlock piece stuff, common inch and shingles, with some thick lumber, have constituted the bulk of receipts. The lumber offered has been sold readily, but there is no urgency in the demand. Dealers have picked up loads because they have wanted the lumber for patching up their depleted yard stocks. The inquiry is for stock width common boards and dry piece stuff mainly.

Prices in actual sales have been reported as follows: Short pine piece stuff, dry, $10.50 a thousand; green short piece stuff, $9.50 to $10; culls piece stuff, $7 to $7.50; hemlock piece stuff, $7.50; common inch lumber, $12 to $12.50; long timber, $12.

The market, as a whole, is feeling its way against adverse conditions, but owing to the depleted stars of stocks in yard there is likely to be some activity before May 1, and more sales on the market than is usual in April.

Reports from some of the distributing centres indicate a slight weakness for the common and cull grades of poplar, but the large mill men are still holding out for association prices. Any concessions granted are due to necessity for moving stock or a strong desire on the part of the owner to secure ready cash. Outside of this the poplar market is firm, with a comparative scarcity of both lumber and logs. With the development of trade it is likely that prices will advance.

NAILS.—The business is not satisfactory and the market shows an unsettled tone for all kinds of stock. Manufacturers appear to have supplies well enough in hand to prevent anything in the way of direct or general pressure to realize, yet there has at times been more than enough stock for the waiting outlet, and in one way or another careful buyers managed to secure concessions on both large and small lots. There have been no fair export clearances this month, principally to South America. We quote Cut at 95c.@$1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.10@1.20 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.00@1.10 for car lots, and $1.20@1.30 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—The general market for paints, colors and kindred articles is in much the same condition as found prevailing for nearly all kinds of merchandise. Seasonable influences increase the demand to a certain extent, and whenever a gain is made operators become more hopeful, but there is nothing in the way of real animation prevailing, nor do the present promises lead to an impression that any early gain of importance can be made. We have before spoken of the greatly reduced accumulations in hands of jobbers and retailers, and latest information goes to confirm that condition of affairs prevailing among all classes of dependent custom, but in nine cases out of ten buyers are refusing to make investments beyond the natural necessities of a working assortment. In a great many cases manufacturers of staple goods are turning out a considerable quantity of stock but the bulk of it is simply a delivery on contracts booked as usual at the commencement of the year against certain staple goods. The cost of supplies does not vary greatly from the figures of a week ago, but irregularity holds as compared with list rates, and leads show the deepest cuts at times, even standard makes selling away off. Corroders' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 6½c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 5.94c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 5¾c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb tin pails, add ½c., and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil has good fair trade demand, and right up-to-the-mark brands command good solid figures. Outside makes, however, are irregular and now and then take a dip in buyer's favor. We quote at 48@49c. for Western, 52@53c. for City from domestic seed and 58@60c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine undergoes no great change. Demand is slow and careful against which offerings prove fair, and on large parcels of stock the tendency of prices is in buyer's favor. We quote at 29½@31c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—There has been some irregularity in the development of demand but the general movement of supplies keeps up to about former average and few changes of importance take place in values. Offerings are fair but not extensive enough to be troublesome. We quote Tar at $1.75@1.80 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.25@2.30 in pork bbls., and $3.25@3.30 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

A WASHINGTON dispatch quotes one of those brilliant individuals who sit in Congress as saying, in regard to the probable passage of the Tariff Bill by July 1: "Our business men can stand anything better than suspense." One would think after the experience of the six or eight months that this measure has been under discussion in one form or another, that the business men of the country have stood suspense very well. Notwithstanding the terrible infliction of this discussion, business has improved somewhat, though the improvement is not by any means as great as some individuals would make it, nor is it what it would have been had the tariff discussion been spared us. The troubles that now confront us cannot be removed by the passage of the Tariff Bill, although they are largely attributable to it. His Satanic majesty is raised, and it will take something more than a motion of Congress to exorcise him. The contest that has begun on the question of wages on the Great Northern and in the Midde States mining regions, the fears aroused by the uprising of so-called Commonweal armies all over the country and rate disputes among the railroads have all to be settled before we can expect better business; moreover, the ordinary dull season will soon be here. It is not reasonable to suppose that merchants will place orders or capitalists make investments while the country is in such a disturbed state as it is now. People who have to sell of course are placed at a disadvantage by these conditions and quotations will be lower. In the stock market, for instance, all the activity is in a few stocks operated by small parties of professionals, so while the Industrials advance, bonds decline, which is not a healthy symptom at all. In other lines also the indications are that buyers have the pick at their own prices. Naturally the closing of the Harlem River Bank and other local troubles have had a bad influence on trading and will create further caution in dealings. However, while there is so much that is unsatisfactory in the situation, it must not be forgotten that the conditions are a great way from what they were last fall; for instance, the record of failures for this week are fewer than they were in the same week last year or in the two weeks previous to this. In fact, most of the troubles of our day, however depressing they may be for the time being, are incident to the course of recovery.

THE enormous over-subscription of the $40,000,000 City of Paris Loan is all the more remarkable as it is the first loan put out by that city at as low a rate of interest as $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. The attraction is probably the lottery scheme that accompanies the loan. Apart from this pernicious feature does not this suggest that the time is a good one for N. Y. City to make needed improvements, when both money and labor are needing employment? Not to do something out of a sentimental regard for the laboring classes, but for the practical benefit of the city. The bill before the Chamber of Deputies proportioning the deposits of a bank to its paid up capital has caused the Credit Lyonnais to call up its unpaid capital. Business on the Berlin Bourse is suffering from the tax of two cents put upon all transactions of 1,000 marks each and under, which goes into effect on May 1st. Trading conditions will soon adapt themselves to this innovation, but meantime it is of course disturbing. Berlin banks still retain the absurd custom of opening from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M., and from 3.30 to 8 P. M., the interval being for refreshment and siesta. The Imperial Bank is now contemplating the advisability of keeping its doors open from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. If they adopt this plan, the other banks are expected to follow. Bankers and other business men are uniting to form a committee with stock exchange members to protect legitimate bourse business against ignorance and political calumny. The Farmer's Alliance man, who wants grain prices to be always high, has turned up in Berlin, and the consequence is the introduction of a bill into Parliament giving the government a monopoly of the imports of grain and fixing minimum prices at which it shall sell. From Vienna advices are that the symptoms all point toward a general revival of business. As the cry of the unemployed of Vienna for work was about at last to be answered, by the commencement of the great works for the extension of the city, the brickmakers struck, followed by a general demand throughout the building trade for a reduction of an hour in the time of the day's work, and many of these people were so near the verge of starvation all winter that suicides were frequent among them. From Russia there come favorable advices of the winter crops which cover a much more extended area than usual. The activity in the shipbuilding trade in the United Kingdom is shown by the fact that there were 414 vessels of 725,208 gross tons under construction in the first quarter of 1894 as compared with 263 vessels of 535,291 gross tons in the same time last year. These figures do not include warships, otherwise the comparison would still more very largely favor this year. The Indian Trade reports for seven months dating from the close of the Indian mints and ending January 31st last were: imports, $167,391,300; exports, $171,610,200; excess exports, $4,218,900. Same time in 1892-93, imports, $138,521,400; exports, $180,232,800; excess exports, $41,711,400; same time in 1891-92, imports, $136,029,300; exports, $172,527,000; excess exports, $36,497,700. The significance of this return lies in the fact that it is from her excess of exports that India pays her obligations abroad. The March returns from the Witwatersrand gold mines again broke the record, amounting as they did to 151,870 ozs. against 111,474 ozs. in the same month last year. For three months the yield was 467,056 ozs., an increase of nearly 50 per cent over the yield for the first quarter of 1893.

THE old story of the pious "Thank Heaven" ejaculated in the general dormitory of the western hotel, when a loud snorer, who had been breaking the midnight peace, died, finds a parallel in the comfort which the decent part of the community of this State feels now that the work of our piratical legislators is ended. It would be unfair to say that these gentry have contributed nothing by their labors to the weal of the state, but certainly the substance is very little, and it has been obtained amid a clash of personal interests and dirty political schemes which has deprived the legislative activity that produced it of any real public character or dignity. Indeed, the session has been a sad disappointment to that hope of better things which tickled the imagination of many good people, when the "great moral revolution at the polls last Fall was announced. "Ah," we were told, "the moral sentiment of the State is at last aroused, and is in arms against political rascality." It was fondly imagined that with the change of political names then effected went a political change of heart, manners and morals. We were done with bossism. People were to have a voice in their own affairs. The management of the State was not to be entirely as hitherto, an affair of pelf and politics. Legislation, it is true, has moved at Albany with a trifle more apparent consideration for public requirements than was the case in preceding sessions; but the improvement has been only apparent, due rather to the fact that the Legislature was composed of diverser elements than usual, not to a higher morale. The "public note," so to speak—the assertion of the claims of the people—never once predominated at Albany since January 1st. The personal note was prevalent, the political note was prevalent, the note of bossism was prevalent, but never once the popular note. We heard a great deal about what the Governor wanted, what Mr. Platt wanted, what Mr. Croker wanted; but the people, as in the case of the Chamber of Commerce bill, had to force and screw their way forward to a mere hearing. The fact is, we have had another exhibition of the truth which experience has emphasized ad nauseum—politics are subversive of good government. Seldom does a question ever arise at Albany that is in a true sense a political question. To question whether it is wise for New York City to build and operate a rapid transit system is business, to be decided very much as a great trunk line decides any question of administration. Democracy and Republicanism are utterly foreign to the issue. The same is true about the creation of parks, the enaction of building laws, the administration of police affairs, and practically all other questions with which the Legislature has to deal. These matters can no more be decided wisely by reference to political creeds than they can by reference to religious beliefs. If the Chinese made their laws in the topsy-turvy way we make ours, we would say, What else can you expect from the unenlightened heathen? But we boast of our practical common sense, and yet proceed to act after a manner that would be ludricous among lunatics. The sad thing is that the farce annually enacted is not an opera-bouffe on the boards of a theatre, but an affair in which the hard interests and welfare of several millions of people are intimately concerned.

SOMETHING solid has been accomplished in the matter of rapid transit, and, with it, upon the whole, we should be satisfied. The city has obtained more than was to be expected, considering the disingenuous opposition of the city officials, the venal activity of the Manhattan Company and the apathy of the New York public. The bill that has been passed is, in all its provisions but one, excellent. The commissioners named therein can scarcely be improved on, and the only disappointment comes from the referendum clause. That, of course, means delay, and delay in this matter of rapid transit is the worst of all evils. Still, as we have often pointed out in these columns, it is foolish to expect everything. The delay need not really be of very much consequence, because, in the interval before the coming election, the commissioners can perform a great amount of the preparatory work which must be done before the work of construction can be commenced. We have very little doubt that the voters of the metropolis will declare themselves at the polls strongly in favor of city construction; still the next few months may be well spent in education, so that there may be no doubt as to the result. The only danger is that the Governor may on some flimsy ground, such as unconstitutionality, veto the bill. If the Governor is affected by the under current of opposition to the bill, which for some time has been working through political channels, he is very likely to blossom forth as a great constitutional lawyer and prefer a quibble to the interests of the people. In case of any doubt, however, it would be an easy matter to invoke the aid of the coming constitutional convention on behalf of the bill. People could vote next fall not only upon the desirability of the city's building the road, but also to legalize the naming of the commissioners.

Private Property.—VII.*

By Richard T. Ely, University of Wisconsin.

THE CONSERVATIVE NATURE OF THE SOCIAL THEORY OF PRIVATE PROPERTY.

DOUBTLESS many readers of this series of articles who have not heretofore given attention to the nature of private property have been startled by the positions taken. The whole treatment of this important topic has seemed to them radical in the extreme. Yet it holds true with regard to social and political doctrines that first appearances are often deceptive. If examined more carefully it will be found that the social theory of property is in reality conservative in the best sense.

First, it leads us to a different view of the State from that which has been too current. If the State determines the character of conduct, it must be ethical in its nature. Yet we have seen that this is precisely what the State does. It decides what shall be ethically allowable and what shall be forbidden. Its control over our property and over our lives is such that it cannot be based on any private contracts. The State cannot be a mere aggregation of individuals. It is rather an organism, and if there is any such thing as a divine institution it must be confessed that it is the State. This is indeed an old doctrine and one generally upheld by leaders of the Church in times past; but it has had a tendency to sink out of sight, so far as its practical bearings are concerned. What this view of property does is to bring before us in its significance the sacred nature of the State. It leads us to view the State conservatively. Either we must accept a conservative view of the State or we must admit the destructive claims of the Anarchists. Either the State is an ethical person or it is an aggregation of individuals existing for the sake of individual needs, resting upon mere physical force and having no other justification than physical force.

In the second place the social theory of property is conservative, because it renders the institution flexible. If we have to accept property as it exists at any given moment for all time, or abolish the institution altogether, the latter alternative will very likely be found a necessity. The needs of men change constantly, and it must be possible to change this fundamental institution of private property in accordance with these needs, if it is to fulfill its functions. Frequently an institution which will not bend must be broken. But the social theory of property gives property a flexibility which tends to its conservation. Before we admit extreme claims of a destructive character with respect to private property, we must see what can be done with the institution itself.

The social theory of property is conservative, in the third place, because according to this theory private property finds its limitations in social welfare. Its office is to advance society and it reaches in its claims only in so far as it accomplishes this end. John Stuart Mill had not worked out in all its details the social theory of private property, yet, for the most part, his views are in accordance with it. It was because he took so correct a view of private property that he rejected socialism. He stated in a very memorable passage in his "Political Economy" that if he were obliged to make choice out of communism with all its difficulties and dangers and the present social order without hope of improvement, then all the dangers and difficulties of communism would be to him but as dust in the balance. He went on to state, however, that we are not foced to make this choice, and added that private property had never had a fair trial. He urged that we must give private property a fair trial before we reject it. He took the view that many things had been made private property which should rather have remained common or public property, and that the institution itself is not limited to that which belonged to it when reduced to its essence. But this was nothing more, he urged, than the right of each one to enjoy the fruits of his own toil and to do with them as he saw fit.

The social theory of private property furnishes us with a strong line of argument against many claims advanced by those who object to private property in land. It is frequently asserted, for example, that private property in land must carry with it the right of life and death over one's fellows. An illustration has been afforded by an imaginary island. Let us take an inhabited island having no connection with any other body of land. Let us suppose that one man gradually becomes the owner of all the land in the island. It is argued that he can then do what he will with the other inhabitants. He may starve them to death unless they consent to live on his terms. It is also urged that he may condemn them to death by drowning, because, it is alleged, the right of private property in land carries with it the right of eviction. With one person private owner of all the land in the island that means, of course, driving them into the ocean to drown. Is an institution, it is asked, justifiable which gives one man such a control over his fellows? This argument seems like a clincher, provided we accept the absolute theory of property. If, however, we adopt the social theory of property, its absurdity at once becomes apparent. The institution of property finds its limits in the welfare of society, and manifestly the annihilation of society cannot be in the interest of society. Long before such a point has been reached, landed property finds its necessary limits. It is maintained because it is supposed it promotes the public welfare. If it clearly fails to advance social interests, then it must be changed or even abolished.

Learned writers in the Roman Catholic Church have as a matter of fact availed themselves of this line of argument in refuting the claims of agrarian socialism. Rev. Victor Cathrein, S. J., has written a book called "Champions of Agrarian Socialism," which has been translated and enlarged by Rev. J. M. Heinzle, S. J., President of Canisius College, Buffalo, N. Y. He uses in this book the following language:

"Property in the objective sense, or objects of full ownership, are only external material things. Hence it is that nearly all the older expounders of the Jus Romanum and many theologians also, define ownership as 'the right of fully disposing of a material object within legal bounds.' From this clause, 'within legal bounds,' it is manifest that the Justinian Code also never knew an absolutely unrestricted right of property. Not only was the subordination of human proprietorship to the supreme dominion of God never questioned in this Christian Roman right, but this principal was universally acknowledged that positive law according to the necessary demands of the public weal could restrict the valid as well as the licit use of private property, especially in land. Proof of this are the so-called legal servitudes, which for the sake of public interest limited in many ways the free disposal of landed property."

This same absolute theory of property has led to radical views with respect to taxation. Mr. Henry George, who rejects private property in land, also rejects the right of society to lay taxes, because taxation, he claims, invades the right of private property. Surely taxation does this, if the right of private property is an absolute and unlimited one; but it is not, and consequently his whole argument falls to the ground.

The social theory of property is a conservative one, because it protects private property in its own sphere. It gives room for the satisfaction of public needs. It makes it possible to abolish private property of any particular sort, provided that private property of this kind does not subserve the interests of society. The whole institution does not then stand or fall with a particular kind of private property, as it seems to if we regard private property as something one and indivisible and unchangeable. This theory of private property admits the need of public property as well. There can consequently be no ground upon which to base an attack upon private property, so long as the institution itself can be made to conform to the requirements of society. It is rendered secure in its own sphere and invasion of the rights of private property appears the more unjustifiable. It is believed that an actual examination of existing conditions in various parts of the world will reveal the fact that private property is respected in so far as it conforms to the social theory of property. It is maintained that a study of history will show that a failure to bring private property into conformity with the requirements of society has been the potent cause for the downfall of older civilizations. We may discover a time in its past development when private property was the cause of poverty on the one hand and of wanton luxury and moral degradation on the other. But things had then gone so far that the remedy for the disease was even more dreaded than the disease itself.

THE State building law, which is a code of laws in three grades, to apply to all the cities in this State, excepting New York and Brooklyn, and also excepting Buffalo, as the latter city had to be eliminated from the bill in order to secure a favorable report from the Committee on Cities of the Senate, passed the Senate just before the final adjournment of the Legislature, but did not reach the Assembly. It would not even have gotten through the Senate this season but for the deep interest which Senator Parker, of Albany, took in this important public measure. For the first time in the history of building law legislation this bill was held up for a time because of a belief that the Fire Underwriters had the greatest interests in securing the passage of the proposed laws, and a delay would induce insurance men to give practical evidence of their supposed anxiety. It required five continuous years of legislative efforts to get for New York City a modern building law, and it looks very much as though continuous years' work will be required to get the State building laws through the Legislature. The State bill, however, is in good shape for early introduction in next year's session of the Legislature, and persistent efforts will yet get it on the statute books. Some great fire or building calamity in one of the interior cities in this State may come and suddenly secure a general demand for building laws in all cities.

LONDON has a proposed new building law pending in Parliament to take the place of the present Metropolitan Building Acts. It is a voluminous and interesting document, and in arrangement and expression an improvement on the existing law, as well as being more up to date in building construction matters. In the schedule for thicknesses of walls for dwelling and warehouses the New York law serves as a model to follow. A Board of Appeals is another American idea which the English law adopts. The law is divided in one hundred and ninety sections and four schedules in addition.

The Railways in Trade.

IT takes three chief interests to keep the world moving, and these three are agriculture, mechanical production and transportation. It will take four in the conceptions of most men, and the fourth will be finance, the stone which the foregoing sentence seems to reject. But finance is only the incident and not the object of our industrial operations. It is an agent rather than a principal in the transactions of the market, and the before-mentioned three may be allowed to stand as the chief interests to which the fourth must be regarded as only contributory.

Among the three of course agriculture leads in this country, both in the total of the capital represented and in the number of persons dependent on its successful prosecution. But transportation follows a close second, rivaling mechanical production in the magnitude of its operations, and rather more than treading on the heels of agriculture in its contributions to the resources of the market. Nominally, it represents $10,000,000,000 in railway capital alone. But it represents, also, a large subsidiary capital in steam and sailing vessels, wharves and warehouses; and it gives employment to a total number of persons that would possibly be found among the millions were the complete figures within reach. It will be seen, therefore, that transportation is a chief pursuit, a pursuit not to be regarded as an industrial or new kind of social evil, but as an interest to be fostered and promoted in precisely the same spirit that we display in promoting agriculture or mechanical production. Transportation, indeed, is only a process in production, the final touch which gives value, and makes merchandise of objects hitherto inert and worthless. But this is sailing into the mysterious seas of political economy, where most men, unfortunately, seem to be at sea without charts; and we wish to keep in the trade winds, if a play upon the word may be allowed, and to sail on common waters. What are the most salient features of transportation in its relations to the market?

It happens that the railways represent that highly perfected form of economic organization which is giving to modern commerce a new development, and placing it more and more each year in a position to forego the services of a stamped currency in the operations of exchange. The stocks and bonds of corporations are becoming, in a certain broad sense, a circulating medium or currency, however much devotion to our traditions and superstitions may lead us to repudiate the words, and the railways, with their enormous capitalization among the billions of dollars have therefore become a tremendous factor in finance. They are the chief factor, indeed, and were it not that a stamped currency still remains the standard of values a fluctuating stock or bond market would affect us as unfavorably as a fluctuating market for money. Indeed, we are rather giving the tail the credit of wagging the dog when we speak of stocks rising or falling by the standard of money. When the stock market falls money sooner or later finds itself going a-begging; for industry has fallen, and to the extent of the fall the so-called currency is out of a job. Men suffer after a panic, not because there is no money, but because there is nothing to do.

It follows on this reasoning then, and it is correct reasoning, that the chief solicitude of men should be given to a stable stock and bond market. The interests of agriculture, though enormous, are dispersed, and, under present usages at least, they cannot be concentrated. Whatever men may think it matters little to the general public whether crops are good or bad. A difference of a few hundred millions a year cannot weigh very heavily in a country that produces and exchanges annually commodities to the value of twelve or fifteen thousand millions, and even our manufacturing interests are too largely under personal control to exert the influence on the market which their magnitude suggests. But on account of their relations to the currency the stocks and bonds of our corporations, our railway corporations especially, have become of vital concern to the general public, to agriculturists, manufacturers and tradesmen alike, and the voyage of life will be made pleasanter for us all if the railways are kept running on an even grade.

But there's the rub, exclaims some Shakesperian crank, and the quotation, it must be confessed, will be timely. How are we to keep the railways on an even grade when their managers seem to put all the ballast in their roads and to carry none in their heads?

Well, we shall not sit down with the fatalist philosophers and teach that because certain things are wrong they must remain wrong. Providence never established any wrong immutably, and there is doubtless a remedy for every evil when men have the intelligence to find it and the good sense to apply it. As to our economic evils they should be very easily remedied for they are not deeply complicated with human passions and appetites, and they do not spring from physical infirmities.

The railway managers should simply awaken to their responsibilities and they should have their backbones stiffened. Few observing persons can have failed to see that this country is most prosperous when its railways are most prosperous, and this is true, not so much because the activity of the market contributes to the prosperity of the railways as because the railways contribute to the activity of the market. Constructing, repairing and operating railways constitute our chief single industry, hardly excepting even the operations of the farms; and when we reflect on the number of subsidiary industries that are dependent on the building, equipment and operating demands of the railways it will be seen that not even the farms are such potent industrial factors as the agencies of transportation. The public responsibility of the railway managers should therefore be seen, and, whatever the charges necessary for maintaining the property under their control in a healthy condition, they should be levied unflinchingly. Instead of having nearly reached a period, railway building in this country has only just begun. Instead of counting our mileage by the hundred thousand we should be enabled to count by the million. Railway vehicles will be cheaper than ox carts on even the public highways.

We said but now that the railway managers wanted their backbones stiffened. It was a truthful saying. The unpardonable reduction in fares and freight rates which has brought our railways to their present emasculated and inert condition has not been altogether due to misconceptions of true business methods. It has been in great part due to the fear inspired by the attacks of ignorant men led on by demagogues, and to an amiable desire on the part of railway managers to seem to be in a compromising frame of mind. But they have nothing to compromise. They should consider only the public interest as it is correlated with the interests of their stockholders. When they display the requisite nerve they will find that they have more friends than enemies in the community. Ignorance influences the world, but it only rules when intelligence abdicates and withdraws from the fight.

St. Louis, Alton & Terra Haute Railroad.

The announcement that the management of the St. Louis, Alton & Terra Haute Railroad Company is contemplating the preparation of a plan for rearranging the securities of the company, when the mortgage issues which mature next July shall have been taken up, makes it interesting to know what the company has to reorganize upon. It will be remembered that some years ago the company sold its main line to the Three Cs., for $10,000,000 of the latter's St. Louis division first mortgage 4 per cent bonds. Of these bonds, $6,700,000 have been set aside to take up a like amount of bonds maturing on July 1st next, but of the bonds to be so taken up, the company has now in the sinking fund $1,271,000, together with $245,633 in cash. The bonds to be actually taken up then practically amount to only $5,426,000. If these are acquired with Three C 4s, at say 80, they would cost $6,782,500 in those bonds, leaving $1,730,500 available for other purposes, and the property free of fixed charges. The company will then have about fourteen and a-half miles of road and the terminals at East St. Louis, together valued at about $3,000,000, on which its preferred stock will be a first lien as far as cumulative dividends are concerned, and its dividend bonds a first lien as far as principal is concerned; $1,730,500 Three C's St. Louis division first 4s which, valued at 80, would be worth $1,384,400; $245,633 cash in sinking fund; equipment valued at $1,000,000 and very long term leases of a number of small roads which, in 1892, produced to the lessees $79,340.49 and last year $47,460.20. These leased roads besides contributed considerable net revenue to the proprietary road. The distribution of net revenue of the last two years is thus classified: On separate earnings of proprietary road, 1892, $29,652.80; 1893, $36,369.71; on business contributed to proprietary roads by leased lines, 1892, $59,803.85; 1893, $72,967.84; from operation of leased roads, $79,340.49; 1893, $47,460.20. The decrease in the last item is almost wholly explained by extraordinary expenditures for improving the rail and renewing trestles and culverts on one of the leased roads amounting to $29,706.52; total, 1892, $168,797.14; 1893, $156,797.75. The securities which will remain outstanding on July 1, 1894, will be $1,170,800 preferred stock, entitled to 61.75 per cent cumulated dividends, amounting to $714,275; dividend bonds, $1,357,000, not entitled to interest unless earned and not until payment of all arrears on preferred stock have been paid, though due on January 1st last; and finally, $2,300,000 common stock. According to this calculation there will be assets valued at $5,630,033, as against capital liabilities of $5,542,075, to which there will have to be added something for needed improvements. At current quotations of 150 for the preferred stock and 25 for the common and say 70 for the dividend bonds the capital of all classes that will be outstanding on July 1st has a nominal market value of $3,331,100. There is then apparently a good opportunity for a reorganization that will increase the value of the common stock.

Legislation at Albany.

ALBANY, April 26.—The Legislature of 1893 will adjourn to-morrow. The writer thinks that the verdict upon it with unprejudiced persons, either political or otherwise, will be that it has done "reasonably well." There has been a tendency in the daily newspapers of recent years "to damn with faint praise" every Legislature that does in fact accomplish many things of benefit to the State, and to hold up to public execration such as in one or two instances are palpably bought up by the money of some corporation, and to withhold praise justly due it for some excellent acts of legislation. One of the bad consequences of this one-sided way of regarding the Legislature is that the citizens of the State refrain from attempting in many needed directions legislation which they could accomplish. Public opinion is mighty even among the corrupt members of the Legislature, and prevails frequently to the astonishment even of the somewhat cynical and sceptical newspaper correspondents, and therefore persons who desire rightful legislation ought not to feel discouraged.

New York City has been well treated by the Legislature. Nearly every bill pressed by its members which came from its city authorities and seemed reasonable was passed by the Republican majority in the Legislature without question, although the men who presented these acts were in nearly every case Democrats. In this respect the wishes of the legislative reprentatives of New York City have been respected. Where they have not been respected has been in the case of bills which the Republican majority thought were designed primarily to promote the interests of Tammany Hall.

CITY BILLS WHICH ARE LAWS.

It was New York members who secured the passage of the bills which have already become laws, providing for two sidewalks along the Harlem River Speedway, the bill appropriating $750,000 for the improvement of the Riverside Drive and Parkway, the bill authorizing the extension of the Riverside Drive and Parkway to the bulkhead line, the bill appropriating $250,000 for the Cathedral Parkway, the bill appropriating $2,500,000 for new schools, the bill providing for a vote on the consolidation of New York and Brooklyn, the bill authorizing the issue of $150,000 Fire Department bonds, the bill authorizing the expenditure of $2.500,000 upon the proposed bridge over the Harlem River from 1st avenue to Willis avenue, the bill authorizing additional appropriations for the Harlem Ship Canal, the bill giving the Fire Department power of eminent domain in the matter of sites for buildings for that Department, the bill authorizing the Department of Public Works with the consent of the Board of Aldermen to repave streets, the bill authorizing the erection of monuments in honor of distinguished American citizens, the bill extending the terms of office of the Subway Commissioners, the bill to prevent overcrowding of theatres, of the tenement house commission bill, of the bill for the construction of a new city building in Crotona Park, of the Provident Loan Society bill, of the bill appropriating one million dollars for park improvements, of the bill for a new city park in the 12th Ward of New York and of other minor city bills. All these bills have become laws and form part of the statutes of the States.

The present week the political bills of the Republican majority concerning New York have all been passed. One bill can hardly be called "political," the one which declares that the Sheriff's fees of $60,000 a year shall go hereafter into the city treasury and that his yearly salary shall be raised to $20,000 a year. The Tammany Hall Democrats of course resisted the passage of this bill depriving them of so much patronage and were beaten upon it. The other bills passed, however, have a greater political tendency. The bill abolishing the present Board of Police, of New York, and substituting a new Board of two Democrats and two Republicans was passed by the Legislature last night. The Democrats of course voted unanimously against it. The Legislature has also passed the bill authorizing each Mayor hereafter elected to remove within sixty days after coming into office all the heads of city departments and appoint new chiefs of these departments. The Senate has passed the bill declaring that all work in excess of $250 hereafter given out by the Dock Department shall be by contract. The Legislature has passed Senator McMahon's bill in regard to condemnation proceedings, drawn up to check the Manhattan Elevated Railway, by Evarts, Choate & Beaman. The Senate yesterday passed Assemblyman Butts' bill providing a uniform fare of 5 cents for a continuous ride over both the Elevated and the Suburban roads. To-day the Assembly passed Senator Robertson's bill abolishing the present Board of Park Commissioners and creating a new Board of two Democrats and two Republicans.

The Assembly passed yesterday the rapid transit bill of the Chamber of Commerce; with Seth Low, William Steinway, Alexander E. Orr, John H. Starin and John Claflin as the Rapid Transit Commissioners. The Senate took the bill last night and the Republicans amended it by striking out the names of the commissioners and authorizing Governor Flower to appoint them. They also added the provision of the Butts-Lexow bill providing that the people of New York should vote in November next upon the question of whether or not the city itself should build the road. This arrangement of the bill stood until this evening when conference committees of the Senate and Assembly agreed to restore to the bill the names of Messrs. Orr, Low, Steinway, Starin and Claflin as Rapid Transit Commissioners. The Senate made this concession while the Assembly agreed to accept the Senate provision that the people of New York the coming fall shall vote on the question of whether or not the City of New York itself shall build the road. The committee of the Chamber of Commerce now here express themselves as delighted with the compromise.

The Senate passed to-day Mr. Lawson's bill, raising the salaries of certain New York park policemen; Mr. Gleason's bill, authorizing the appointment of a coal inspector in New York; Mr. Gleason's bill, authorizing an increase of the salary of the Attorney for the collection of arrears of unpaid taxes in New York to $6,000 yearly; Mr. Lawson's bill, abolishing dumps on the East Side of New York; the bill of Commissioner Andrews, of the Street Cleaning Department, authorizing him to erect sheds over the dumps of that department; Mr. McDermott's bill, giving the Street Cleaning Commissioner power to grant permits to truckmen to store their trucks in the streets; Mr. Stein's, equalizing police pensions; Mr. Marrin's bill, authorizing the completion of the Boscobel avenue improvement; Senator Guy's bill, raising the salary of the Clerk of the City Court, and Senator Lexow's bill, extending the time four years for the completion of the Hudson River Tunnel.

The Assembly has passed Mr. Butts' bill providing for fifteen roads to pass beneath the Grand Boulevard.

The Senate has passed Senator Coggeshall's bill increasing the pay of the patrolmen of the New York police, in the fifth grade, from $1,200, yearly, to $1,450. If this bill becomes a law it will increase the city's expenses $100,000 yearly.

Governor Flower has signed the bill providing for the establishment of St. Nicholas Park, in the 12th Ward. The bounds of the park, as described in the bill, begin on the southwest corner of St. Nicholas avenue and 130th street produced, and run thence north on the west line of St. Nicholas avenue to 141st street, thence west on the south line to Convent avenue, thence south on the east line to the centre line of 138th street produced, thence west to 10th avenue, thence south on the east line to the centre line of 136th street, thence east along said centre line to the centre line of St. Nicholas terrace, thence south along said centre line to the southerly line of 130th street produced, and thence east to the point of beginning. The act is mandatory in its terms and requires the Corporation Counsel to apply to the Supreme Court for a Commission of Appraisal and the Supreme Court to appoint such commission. It makes the entire cost of the proceeding a charge upon the city at large, without assessment on adjoining property.

A Literary Adventure by Mr. Wiman.

The influence that Erastus Wiman has exerted during the last seven or eight years in the development of suburban property is well known. He has given a new birth to Staten Island, and by connecting it with the mainland, and otherwise improving its transit facilities he has enormously increased the value of its real estate and added to its population. His more recent plan for an electric railway on the Island, beginning at St. George and returning to the same landing after describing a loop over eight miles of the most eligible district for residence to be found is also exceedingly well conceived, and it involves a very large real estate transaction of general interest to dealers and the public. Indeed, nearly all of Mr. Wiman's adventures seem to have been conceived for the benefit of the public, however speculative they may appear to persons not familiar with the plans, and anything from his hand is, therefore, of general interest. Even his literary efforts seem to have been inspired by his usual sympathetic nature and in his recently published book entitled "Chances of Success" one may read between the lines and discover the controlling spirit of the author. It is an undigested book, headlong and impulsive, like everything that comes from Mr. Wiman. It is just such a book as an energetic and absorbed business man of unusual intelligence and comprehensive mind could be expected to produce by dictation to a stenographer in three weeks, the time given to its production; but it is exceedingly readable, and, on account of the thin veil of autobiography in which it is enveloped, it may be called a key to the mental operations of an interesting character. It should be widely read. It doubtless contains much that a careful revision would have struck out or modified, but it is none the less instructive because it exposes the fact that the executive faculties of the author are more thoroughly trained than his literary faculties. The book is so written that a reader may begin either in the middle or at either end and find about equal entertainment in reading in any direction. It is full of bright thoughts and entertaining records of incidents in the career of the author.

The Building Trades' Exchange.

THE LONG-DEFERRED PROJECT ABOUT TO BE REALIZED.

Scarcely ever did the spacious parlors of the Building Trades' Club hold a more earnest or thoughtful assemblage of builders than were gathered on the evening of the 20th inst. to consummate the organization which is to be known as the Building Trades' Exchange of New York City.

Mr. John J. Tucker presided, with the ever ready scribe, Mr. Stephen M. Wright, filling the post of secretary.

The President explained the object of the meeting, and expressed his great satisfaction at seeing, finally, a sufficient interest manifested and a sum already subscribed, which would insure the organization of the Exchange, and the success of the building enterprise.

The Provisional Committee, representing the Building Trades' Club, presented the following statement, addressed to the subscribers:

"The committee appointed by the Building Trades' Club to represent it in its laudable undertaking of endeavoring to stimulate the entire building trades in this city to an effort to erect such a building as will be a visible evidence of its magnitude and importance in this community, as well as the creation of an organization which in the very nature of its personnel will fully represent the greatest commercial industry, have invited you to meet that into your hands may be committed the work they themselves have so laboriously but voluntarily carried on. This they were also required to do when the number of subscribers had reached at least one hundred.

"Throughout all the discouragement of a severe financial and commercial depression, lack of appreciation of the immense advantages to accrue, coupled with the usual apathy towards any progressive movement, this committee has arduously labored to secure the adoption of its idea, that the builders of this great metropolis should no longer be so distrustful of each other, but rather should hasten the day when, unitedly and persistently, they may vigorously wield the latent power they possess to right their own grievances, resist the encroachment of the labor agitators, and defeat such pernicious legislation as is inimical to their interest. In surrendering into your hands the future of a movement destined to be of lasting importance, even to those of its now most doubting adversaries, we desire to express our utmost confidence in your ability and zeal to carry it forward to success. To do so will no doubt require a sacrifice of time and perchance some personal comfort; but when such is to result in the furnishing of a permanent home and insuring its rightful prestige to a commercial interest with which we all are so intimately identified, we entreat you not to hesitate."

After a full discussion and thoughtful consultation the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, The project of securing a fitting and suitable home for the Building Trades of the City of New York by the purchase of a site and erection of a commercial building, which shall be significant and valuable as indicative of the immense importance of the building industries of this great metropolis of the country, has reached a point where success of the enterprise is assured; now therefore be it

"Resolved, That the subscribers to the building fund to date be and hereby are constituted and organized as the Building Trades' Exchange of New York City, and that additional subscribers in sums not less than $1,000, until the said fund shall reach the sum of $400,000, shall also be members de facto of the said organization; and be it further

"Resolved, That each of the present subscribers and each of the additional subscribers as aforesaid shall be entitled to certificates of membership in the Exchange and to shares of stock in addition thereto in the following manner. Each such subscriber for $1,000 shall have one certificate of membership, which shall have the relative value of one share of stock in the enterprise, and for each additional subscription of $1,000 he shall have an additional share of stock. But no subscription to stock shall be received except the subscriber be eligible to and the holder of a certificate of membership in the Exchange.

"Resolved, That until further action, the officers of the Exchange shall be a President, Vice-President, a Secretary and a Treasurer, and they shall be elected at this meeting, and shall serve until such time as their successors are elected and qualified.

"Resolved, That the President is hereby directed to appoint an Executive Committee to consist of fifteen members, who with the officers shall be fully authorized and are hereby empowered to act in the interim of the meetings of the Exchange, in all matters connected therewith. They shall be empowered to enact any such rules and regulations as will enable them to better carry out the intent of the Exchange, and within the spirit of the prospectus of July 15, 1893, under which the subscriptions have been received; but shall report to the Exchange all actions taken by them."

The Chairman appointed Messrs. Theo. W. Morris, Augustus Meyers, Wm. H. Hand, A. S. Dickinson and Chas A. Cowen as a committee to retire and prepare for consideration the names of suitable persons for the officers of the Exchange as specified in the foregoing resolution. After deliberation they presented the following, who were balloted for and elected:

President—John J. Tucker.
Vice-President—Edwin Outwater.
Secretary—Stephen M. Wright.
Treasurer—Isaac A. Hopper.

The President asked permission to delay the appointment of the Executive Committee until a later day as he desired to consult with his associate officers to the end that the Committee may thoroughly represent each of the important callings in the trade. The subscribers to the movement to date number 126, and include the following: John J. Tucker, Isaac A. Hopper, George Moore Smith, Augustus Meyers, John J. Roberts, Clarence W. Gaylor, Thomas F. Questions and Answers.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A had a house to sell and B wanted to buy one on the block where A's was situated. C, a real estate agent, called on A and looked through the house. A wanted to know if C had any objection to tell who C wanted the house for, and he told A. C went to his office and wrote to B the result of his call, sending a permit to look at A's house. In about two months B bought the house from A and A says that B came there with D and said he could buy the house through D and no one else. Is C entitled to his commission on this sale?

Answer.—In order that a broker may recover commission he must be the procuring cause of the sale. It is not enough simply that he first brought the vendor and vendee together. C can recover only if he can prove that his case is within the above rule.—LAW EDITOR.

ENCROACHMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly answer the following question for me: A has a piece of property on which he contemplates building; in fact has already started to excavate, and finds out that B, his neighbor, encroaches on his lot 1¾ inches, with a five-story brick building. What redress, if any, has A?

Answer.—He may have an action for ejectment against B if he insists upon having his 1¾ inches of land, or he may require that B shall pay him the value of the strip.—LAW EDITOR.

SENIOR AND JUNIOR.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

By answering the following question you will greatly oblige one of your subscribers: A and B are father and son. A's name is Henry, and B, having the same name, signs and transacts business as Henry, Jr. In case that A should die can B legally continue to sign and transact business as Henry, Jr.?

Answer.—Yes.—LAW EDITOR.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

(1) Is a tenant liable for the rent, or a deficiency therein, for the balance of his term, after he has assigned his lease to a new tenant; the landlord having waived his right, reserved in the lease, to object to such assignment by accepting rent from the new tenant? (2) Would the rule be otherwise in case the landlord gave his consent to the assignment, say in writing, nothing being said about relieving the original tenant from his legal obligations under the lease thereafter? (3) Can the landlord better protect himself by inserting in his consent that he does not thereby release the original lessee?

Answer. (1) Yes. Covenant for rent, therefore, may always be maintained against the lessee or his representatives. Although he may have assigned his term, and although the lessor or his grantee may have accepted rent of the assignee (McAdam on L. and T., 2d Ed., p. 155). (2) No. (3) The previous answers show you that the landlord does not need any further protection than the original lease gives him.—LAW EDITOR.

INFECTIOUS DISEASE IN APARTMENT HOUSE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please inform me who, if anybody, is liable for damages under the following circumstances: I lease the top flat of an apartment house; on the first floor the tenant had scarlet fever and diphtheria; nothing was said to me or any member of my family about the matter and I allowed my children to pass up and down the stairs as usual; no precautions were taken to disinfect the house. On the ninth day I, by accident, discovered the trouble and the next day one of my children was taken sick with scarlet fever. The owner of the premises denies knowing about the disease, although one of the tenants moved out on the fourth day after the trouble was known, or rather after the patient was taken sick. The matter was reported to the Board of Health at the proper time, so far as I know.

Answer.—We do not think any one is liable in damages to you. Certainly not the landlord, who had no knowledge of the existence of the disease and who, if he had known of it, had no power in the premises.—LAW EDITOR.

DEFRAUDING CREDITORS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please answer the following questions: (1) Can a person transfer their property to other persons for the purpose of cheating their creditors out of their rights? (2) Can they sell the said property to other persons, and can they give a good deed for the same?

Answer.—(1) The transfer may be made, but the property may be reached all the same if the purpose of the transfer can be proved. (2) There is nothing to prevent a person who is in debt from transferring or selling his property to a bona fide purchaser for value.—LAW EDITOR.

TRUSTEE'S INVESTMENTS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Can a trustee under a will proved in New York legally invest any part of the proceeds of the trust in a first mortgage on improved property in the State of New Jersey? If the act be illegal and he does so invest, what would the penalty be if the trust were impaired and what if it were not impaired and the money not jeopardized?

Answer.—He may. Such investment is not forbidden by law. A trustee, in case the principal of the trust fund is impaired, is held liable if the investment is such as a careful, prudent man would not make of his own funds.—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I would like to know if I am entitled to a commission, and how I can collect and from whom. I offered two houses to M R, went with him to the property and took him through the owner's apartments, but, unfortunately, we did not see the owner at that time, consequently no introduction. M R afterwards bought another piece of property and resold it. I again mentioned the same two houses to him and have a copied letter to the effect. He (M R) buys the property through his son-in-law L H, and they in some way of their own get the commission and I get left. Is there no law to protect a broker in a case of this kind?

Answer.—If you were employed by the owner to procure a purchaser of the two houses we think he is liable to you for the commission. Your letter, however, does not disclose the fact of such employment. Neither does it appear that you were employed by M R to find such houses as he wanted. A broker may collect commission from a would-be buyer who employs him as well from an employing seller.—LAW EDITOR.

DIVISION WALL.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A and B own adjoining lots. B's lot being from 3 to 4 feet lower than A's, a stone wall built thirty years since to the level of A's lot, posts to support the fence being embedded in the wall, the wall has been crumbling for some years and the fence is in a delapidated condition. What rights have A and B toward each other in the erection of a new wall and fence on the dividing line. A's lot is on the street level?

Answer. They must share the expense equally.—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION—RENTING.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please answer the following question: I, a broker, rent part of a house, drawing up one year's lease at the request of the owner; I collect the rents and each month deduct 5 per cent commission; at the end of eight months the house is sold and the new owner collects his own rents; am I entitled to 2½ per cent commission on the four months remaining on the lease, from the former owner?

Answer.—Yes. You might have deducted your 2½ per cent commission on the year's rental from the first month's rent.—LAW EDITOR.

Real Estate Market.

The course of the real estate market has been dull all through the week—exceedingly dull considering the time of the year—but at the last there are some few announcements that give it a little appearance of life. It is not to be assumed that all of the doings of brokers find their way into the newspapers, notwithstanding the extraordinary attention the latter have of late been giving to real estate, but the meagre announcements of this week are nevertheless indicative of a stagnation of the market that bids fair to continue until the summer shall have come and gone. This week's offerings in the auction market have attracted some attention, and three or four fair bargains were obtained by watchful operators. The Maiden lane parcel was clearly not purchased upon present income, but rather in view of its income-paying capacity when properly improved. President Geo. R. Read, of the Real Estate Exchange, purchased a town-house for his own use at one of the sales on Tuesday.

Perhaps the best news to the owners of New York City realty, that has been heard in many a day, was that which told of the passage of the Rapid Transit Bill at Albany. As finally passed, the bill names William Steinway, John H. Starin, Seth Low, John Claflin and Alexander E. Orr the commissioners, and provides for a referendum upon the question of city ownership and construction. This latter feature has been strongly opposed by some of those who were largely instrumental in securing the passage of the bill, but in real estate circles it is approved. President Read and Mr. Harnett said they would not have it different if they could. They both thought its presence in the bill would make the measure more popular than it could otherwise have been. Mr. Read said he believed the effect of the passage of the bill would be stimulating to the whole market. Although the realization of rapid transit is still contingent upon the favorable vote of the people on the question of city ownership, he said he did not doubt the result of that vote, and that the enactment of this law had brought rapid transit nearer than ever before. As soon as practical operations could be begun—or, even as soon as the people could see that rapid transit would result from the enactment of this bill, they would begin actively to build up the upper sections of the city. This will doubtless be the view of the entire real estate brokerage profession.

It is very significant of the condition of the auction market, that the President of the Real Estate Exchange should become a purchaser in it of a dwelling for his own use. At the sale by Mr. Wm. Kennelly, on Monday, Mr. Read bought the property, a four-story brownstone dwelling, lot 20.10x100.5, No. 33 West 46th street, for $41,000, and considers that he obtained a veritable bargain. This substantiates what THE RECORD AND GUIDE has been saying for several weeks: that the auction market is offering frequent opportunities for bargains, and any one who is so disposed can, under the advice of intelligent and responsible brokers, pick up positive bargains there every week. Mr. Read and his family are already established at Roxton, their summer home, near Rye, and will remove into the 46th street house in the fall. In the meantime a dining-room extension will be added and the house thoroughly renovated and redecorated.

Some idea of the difference of opinion prevailing as regards values was shown at the Broadway Salesroom on Tuesday, when a plot, 100.8x87.9, on the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 90th street, was sold for $55,700. It was announced that the Emigrant Bank had appraised the plot at $70,000. In connection with this statement it should be added that Mr. Campion, of the Emigrant Bank, the owner of the opposite corner (northeast), asks $75,000 for a plot 100.8x62 feet.

Messrs. Richard V. Harnett & Co. will conduct an important sale of choice Brooklyn property on Tuesday, May 8th next, at the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room, No. 59 Liberty street. Each house has its own separate steam plant and pump. It is claimed for the houses that they are remarkably well built, well arranged and as a consequence rent well. They are certainly deserving of careful examination by investors. Buyers are promised very liberal terms.

News of the Building Trade.

Ever since the building of the big Brooklyn Bridge, the "Brooklyn Bridge Brand" of Rosendale Hydraulic Cement has grown in favor with architects and builders. For a time it was known as "Snyder's Bridge Brand," taking its name from the then Secretary of the New York and Rosendale Cement Co., the manufacturers now as then; and architects still occasionally specify "Snyder's Bridge Brand," although that name has been abandoned. Without any reflection upon Mr. Snyder it may be said that the name is no longer used. Over 100,000 barrels of this cement was used in the construction of the Brooklyn Bridge, and the "Brooklyn Bridge Brand" is doubtless what is intended, even when specified under the abandoned name.

The "Peerless" Boilers, illustrated on another page, for which Geo. H. Bell & Co., of 114 Nassau and 41 Dey streets, are the sole agents, is equally adapted for either steam or hot water heating. It is simple in construction, and the makers point out that there are no parts to get out of repair, no tubes to clog, and it requires but little cleaning. They assert that it will generate steam quicker than any other boiler now on the market, requiring but ten minutes from the time of lighting the fire to raise and force steam to any point where steam is desired. It will thus be seen that it not only economizes time, but fuel as well. The reason for this is that there are no useless surroundings to warm up, the heating power being applied directly to the steam generating surface, thus gaining the benefit of every atom of heat power formed. The boiler proper is directly over the fire-box, and has extensions projecting downward and surrounding the fire-box. Across the top of the fire-box is arranged an inverted T pipe, whose horizontal portion communicates with the water space of the fire-box, while its vertical portion extends into the boiler above. Short transverse pipes connect the lower portion of the boiler extension with the adjacent parts of the water space of the fire-box. It will be apparent that the water contained in the annular space of the fire-box will be quickly heated, and will readily pass or circulate to the boiler. The heat will pass downward around the boiler extension and thence upward over the top of the boiler to the chimney, thus practically surrounding the boiler and the water which it contains, thereby quickly generating steam. The boiler is portable, and the makers say can be set in place ready for use in two hours' time. It will burn either anthracite or bituminous coal or coke. It is constructed, we are informed, of the best flange steel, and thoroughly tested before leaving the shop to 150 pounds. The prices, the makers say, are placed so low that it will successfully compete with any boiler now in the market.

CHANGES AMONG THE ARCHITECTS.

Architects A. L. C. Marsh and Charles H. Israels, who have jointly occupied offices at No. 90 Nassau street the past three years, have formed a partnership with Mr. J. F. Harder. The firm Marsh, Israels & Harder will remove on May 1st to larger offices at 194 Broadway. Mr. Israels has been well known for some years to the building public of this city, and especially to prominent men on the real estate market for whom he has conscientiously executed warehouses, apartment houses and private dwellings, the latter notably on the West Side. Mr. Marsh's specialty is suburban work like the Young Men's Christian Association building in Plainfield, the National Bank building of Westfield and numerous private residences along the line of the New Jersey Central. Mr. Harder will be remembered as a gold medallist of the Architectural League. For two years he was engaged in Chicago on the World's Fair buildings as first assistant to Mr. Charles B. Atwood, the chief of design. This firm of architects therefore possesses a combination of talent seldom found, and will execute work of any variety in the architectural line with precision, caution and alertness, and at the same time in accordance with the artistic development of the period.

This great structure has been finished throughout with Adamant plaster. The handsome Exhibit of Adamant made by the company at THE RECORD AND GUIDE Building Material Exhibit, 276 to 282 Washington street, Brooklyn, and shown in several styles and colors of finish, is a striking object-lesson of the effective uses to which this plaster may be put.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: the first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, APRIL 28, 1894.

BROOKLYN'S new building law passed both branches of the Legislature, and on Wednesday last reached the Executive Chamber. That it will be signed by the Governor there is not a shadow of doubt. The law is to take effect thirty days after it receives the Governor's signature, which will bring the date of its enforcement somewhere about the 1st day of June. The new law will not apply to buildings now in process of erection, nor to buildings not yet in process of erection, the plans and specifications of which were within sixty days immediately prior to the passage of the new law—say subsequent to March the 1st—approved by the Department of Buildings, provided that the erection of the same shall be in good faith commenced within sixty days "after the passage of this act," that is, commenced say, before the 1st day of July next. A month intervenes between the passage of the law and the date of its going into effect, and under the wording of the law itself there appears to be an uncertainty as to whether plans filed during the month of May for new buildings shall conform to the new or to the old law. The Commissioner of Buildings will doubtless be governed in his ruling on this point by the advice of the Corporation Counsel. Curious defects seem to crop out of every new law, however much time may have been given to their preparation. Commissioner Bush has been zealous in the work of getting this law through the Legislature. Towards a measure which covers neither money advantage nor patronage the ordinary legislator displays an indifference which can only be overcome by persistent personal appeals for support. When a bill which is in the line of the public interest only is on its final passage, it runs the great risk not of votes against it, but of failure to receive the requisite number of votes by members of the Legislature who are not sufficiently interested to vote affirmatively unless pledged so to do. Therefore in every such case some persistent lobbying is a prerequisite to success. The citizens of Brooklyn may be congratulated on having secured a new building law, and in having a competent and reputable Commissioner of Buildings to administer the new law.

THE new building law for Brooklyn quite closely follows the text of the New York City building law, but in many respects it is different. In the next issue of THE RECORD AND GUIDE the points of resemblance and dissimilarity will be pointed out and commented on. It is our intention to publish the new building law, together with other laws relating to buildings in the City of Brooklyn, with headings and marginal notes, full indexes and marginal notes, corresponding to THE RECORD AND GUIDE publication of the New York building laws, and in uniform style. This will be done as expeditiously as the magnitude of the work and the care required in the preparation of the matter will allow. The publication will be compiled and edited by Mr. William J. Fryer, who served as one of the committee who drafted the Brooklyn building law. Just as THE RECORD AND GUIDE publication of the New York building law is the acknowledged standard and only useful book of reference to the building law in New York, so we confidently assert will be THE RECORD AND GUIDE'S publication of the Brooklyn building law the same for Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN has grown apace this week. By grace of the legislative authority of the State, New Utrecht, Flatbush and Gravesend have already been consolidated with this city, and Flatlands has been given a ticket of admission which will admit her to the municipal family on January 10, 1896. The Governor's signature is still lacking as to one or two of these bills, but having signed the Flatbush bill, he cannot well decline to sign the others. By this addition to the city's territory and population Brooklyn outranks New York in territorial extent, and passes the million mark in population. New Utrecht contributes 7.96 square miles and about 11,000 population; Flatbush, 5.69 square miles and about 15,000 population; Gravesend, 10.96 square miles and about 10,000 population, and Flatlands 12.79 square miles and about 5,000 population. The city has thus grown from 28.99 square miles to 66.39 square miles, and from 957,958 population to about 1,001,000. The most immediate and beneficial effect of these consolidations will be the extension of the police and fire protection system of Brooklyn over the new wards. All around the borders of the present city there is a cordon of beer gardens, with dance hall attachments, the vilest and most demoralizing of all evil resorts. They are established just outside the city's limits, and have thus hitherto escaped the jurisdiction of our police. It is not too much to believe that they will have to sneak away beyond the new frontiers, or go out of business. But larger, if not more important results will follow in due time. The extension of the sewer, gas, water and street systems into the new sections and their articulation with the existing systems, will require a deal of work that cannot be done in a hurry, and private and corporate enterprise may well be expected to appear in the extensions of street railways and the building of houses and in the establishment of new industrial centres. These consolidations are important steps in the right direction—a direction which will end only in the larger Consolidation of all these towns, with Brooklyn and New York, into the Greater New York.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

Commissioner White has approved, with some modifications, designs for artistically shaped poles for carrying electric lights submitted by the Edison Electrical Illuminating Company for erection in various parts of the city, where arc lights will be placed when the contract which was recently made goes into effect. These poles are to cost the company about $40 apiece. Inspectors are now selecting sites for these poles.

The State Railroad Commission on Tuesday granted an application of the Kings County Elevated Railroad Company to increase its capital stock from $300,000 to $1,500,000.

A contract for building one hundred miles of trolley street railway, to run from the different ferries through the city to Fort Hamilton, Bath Beach, Bensonhurst, Manhattan Beach, Sheepshead Bay, Canarsie and Flatlands, was signed on Wednesday last by Albert L. Johnson, representing the Johnson Company, of Johnstown, Pa., and J. M. Edwads, of R. T. Wilson & Co., bankers, of No. 33 Wall street, New York, who offered to build an underground rapid transit road for that city. When the entire system is completed, which is expected to be in a year, it will be possible to ride twenty miles in any direction for the single fare of 5 cents.

The property-owners in the vicinity of the Brighton Beach Railroad terminal, at Franklin and Atlantic avenues, are circulating a protest against the extension of that line to Fulton street, where it is to connect with the Kings County Elevated Railroad, and headed by prominent persons of the neighborhood have formed an association to carry on the fight against the proposed connection. Subscriptions are being solicited from all the house-owners on Lefferts and Brevoort places and Franklin avenue, in the vicinity of the proposed connection, in order to defeat the project.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—Reports were not particularly cheerful, and, if anything, the market has set back a trifle during the current week. Actual consumption appears to make no gain, nor is it likely to until some time next month when the influence of new work commences to be felt, and at this season dealers very naturally feel little inclination to buy supplies beyond their immediate distributive requirements. Against those conditions, unfortunately, the supply seems inclined to increase, the arrivals this week having run ahead of calculations and keeping a surplus offering on the market all the while. Another rather depressing feature is in the fact that new brick from New Jersey have already appeared and a great deal of work has already been inaugurated at many of the Hudson Riveryards, although the majority of manufacturers contend that they will not commence until the middle of next month. About former quotations are named on the general range, but $5 admitted to be a pretty full rate for nine-tenths of the supply. Pales are dull and nominal. Manufacturers of choice front report light trade and an easy feeling on prices.

GLASS.—Most reports agree that the consumption of window glass is gradually increasing. That development, however, is only a natural result of the season, and as a matter of fact the calls of buyers are far below the average, usual at this time of the year, on all outlets. The defection in demand, however, finds some balance in moderation of production and the small accumulations of stock on hand, a basis upon which manufacturers assume a considerable measure of firmness. A recent estimate by parties conversant with the situation claims that not more than two-thirds of the pots are really working, and probably only thirty per cent of the accumulation usual at this time of the year can now be found in first hands, with apparently no inclination to pile up additions before the annual shut down. Any sudden expansion of demand under the circumstances would create sharp buoyancy. Indeed, the upward tendency of values previously noted has of late taken somewhat more general form, and manufacturers and jobbers are both quoting higher, although apparently without concert of action. That makes it difficult to decide upon positive figures, although at the moment about 85 and 10 to 85 and 5 per cent discount seems to be a fair average, with business known to have taken place a trifle lower this week, and on the other hand we have a rate claimed as high as 80 and 20 per cent. Imported cylinder shows much the same general features as domestic. There is some increase of demand from custom compelled to renew assortments, but the percentage of movement greatly below what is ordinarily expected at this season, and quite an accumulation of stock is reported in bond. Plate glass also gets rather more attention and has a firmer market with values likely to be still further stimulated. With the gain in tone the selling side of the glass market talks buoyantly as a matter of course, but the demand for both window and plate is based on necessity only and there is no more boom than on any other article of merchandise.

LIME.—About an average run of demand was found, buyers showing no hurry and simply calling for the supplies they need to meet current wants. Offerings have been ample of all kinds with prices kept easy, and indeed for odd lots here and there further fractional shadings have been allowed. Arrivals were moderate and with rates now so low it seems reasonable to expect a fair clearing up of the supply. Reports in regard to the manufacturers' "combine" have of late been somewhat contradictory and withal a trifle amusing. A couple of weeks ago we were told by seemingly good authority that the combination was pretty nearly on its last legs, and so intimated in our report. That brought out a vigorous denial from parties interested in handling the supplies controlled by the combination, supplemented by the statement that a heretofore outside manufacturer had joined the association and so perfected it that matters were now in an altogether beautiful condition of loveliness, or words to that effect. With an idea of doing justice we put that hint into print. And now comes a counter statement, the writer of which assumes to know the manufacturer referred to, which is more than we can do, as our informant being a leading operator we accepted his simple statement and no names were mentioned. The following is the communication:

Putnam av, n w s, 100 [illegible]

NEW YORK, April 21, 1894.

RECORD AND GUIDE:

GENTLEMEN—Referring to your article on lime in this week's issue we wish to state that the large lime manufacturer mentioned has not gone into the Rockland Lime Association, and will not go into the association under any circumstances. One of the firm is sitting beside the writer at this moment. You will kindly insert this in your next issue and set the matter right. Yours, very truly.

THE FRANK E. MORSE COMPANY,
F. E. MORSE, President.

Since receiving the above we have again been told that a large maker had in all probability joined the association, also, that he had not, and that two others were outsiders also; all of which is given for what it may be worth, and the matter really amounts to little anyhow.

LATH.—The market has again been moderately supplied with about everything available finding custom, and the tone steady. Some odd lots have sold at higher figures, but there is nothing to warrant an advance over the quotations for some time ruling as a cargo basis of valuation.

LUMBER.—Very few, if any, really important changes have come into notice since last writing. It is not difficult to find operators talking more cheerfully, some because they have an idea that the market can be talked into better shape, and some because they are really getting an improvement in the run of trade. The gains, however, are much the same as we have before advised, made up largely of stock going out on booked contracts accumulated since last year, or on new orders for stuff wanted for repairs in the building line, or small unexpected necessities among manufacturers, and when the entire business is taken together it makes a slim showing in comparison with what is ordinarily expected at this season of the year. Of course the conditions of the distributive trade as just noted must in the natural order of things find reflection upon the wholesale market, and an operator who makes any direct call for supplies beyond the limit of some special cut, may be considered as representing an exceptional feature of the market. There is seldom an absence of a good general supply right within reach, with every reason to suspect that a still larger quantity would develop the moment there was occasion for it.

Indeed there has of late been evidence of growing impatience among manufacturers as manifested by the larger number of salesmen on this market. They are a little too circumspect to come right out with free offerings as matters now stand, but are doing a great deal of looking around among custom they are most likely to deal with, and giving hints that carry with them every impression of easier terms to desirable custom, especially if further arrivals of agents increase the competition. Some who have had considerable experience on this market and become wise in regard to its ways seem to have disappeared, and it is understood they slipped off to other localities, especially Eastward, where they hope to get in a few contracts before the main body of sellers strikes out in the same direction.

The export trade remains in an uncertain state. Some good sized clearances are made occasionally, but there is no regular or full demand, and operators who make a specialty of the foreign trade are not satisfied with present custom, and entertain doubts as to what may follow. The Brazilians seem to be in sight of peace at last, which is a hopeful sign for trade with that country, although just now it is the "off" season there, and some time will probably be necessary to get financial affairs into shape.

Receivers of Eastern Spruce do not talk as though they cared much for any great addition to the random supply. A few cargoes of desirable and attractive specification might be placed, especially with custom outside the city limits, but the hope is that no fleet will come along with several million feet in a bunch, because it would simply have to undergo a repetition of the slaughter experience of a few weeks ago. Meanwhile there is a little trade doing from time to time in yard orders, and some of the favorite mills are understood to have booked a fair amount of work considering the general state of affairs prevailing. Virginia spruce remains easy in tone and enough can be found to satisfy all natural demand, but now and then a seller commences to talk as though tired of accepting slaughter rates. State spruce gets some attention, yet always in form to show that buyers are unwilling to handle anything beyond their actual necessities.

Hemlock sells to country custom fairly well, but there are not many buyers in this locality who appear in any hurry about opening negotiations beyond a few orders now and then to maintain assortments for current requirements. They do not have to ask twice to obtain accommodation in the way of an offering and find the valuation quite as easy as for some time past. Carolina Pine is nominally steady, yet it is understood that only on small lots are full figures closely adhered to.

White Pine has been offered with greater freedom and there are reports of deals made for next cut again perfected to a moderate extent. Terms, however, are not disclosed and it is generally found that the objection to publication comes from sellers. Yellow Pine remains in an uncertain condition as to value, except that there seems no tendency to strengthen as yet. The demand is limited.

Hardwoods find slow uncertain direct demand nd are difficult to place under pressure. Sellers complain that nearly all classes of customers readily enough admit the reasonable basis upon staple grades can be obtained, yet calmly and persistently refuse to enter upon negotiations except of a jobbing character. Traveling salesmen representing the popular interest have been somewhat conspicuous of late and some of them mysteriously hint at having secured some good sized orders. The buyers, if any, have not revealed themselves, however, and the current feeling seems to be that there is no necessity for hurry to accumulate stock. Mahogany is reported as somewhat firmer in tone owing to the smaller run of imports and the strong hands in which local accumulations are carried. Exporters are taking out a few goods, mostly careful selections of high quality, on regular running shipping accounts.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

Aside from a slightly increased activity on the part of wholesale buyers of white pine at lake mill points, and some inquiry for hardwood at upper Ohio River places, little has transpired during the week to change the previous condition of the general lumber business. Eastern buyers have recently ventured as far northwestward as Duluth looking for chances to buy, but they move among the mills in an indifferent manner, as if they were careless as to whether they should or should not purchase. They are out in the market to give opportunity for good chances to run against them, in which contingency they might possibly gather them in with a listless grasp. There is considerable picking up of moderate-sized lots on the part of eastern as well as western wholesale dealers, the object apparently being to provide for current trade only, with little reference to business far in the future. The volume of this kind of dealing is increasing, but not at a rapid rate.

It cannot be expected that prices will strengthen while affairs remain as outlined. Values are everywhere low as compared to what they were one year ago. In the list of woods in most common use white pine and oak are probably firmer in price than any other. Pine is not worth as much in the wholesale yards at western points as it was sixty days ago. In the east there has probably been less of a decline. It is claimed that values have struck rock bottom, but we can scarcely have implicit confidence in this assumption until the usual June onslaught on the market has been made and results determined. It is possible that the mill operators, knowing that their log supply is less than in former years, will hold fast against a further decline and succeed in maintaining about present prices.

At Chicago:

Flat common inch lumber—that is, lots out of which selects have been picked—is selling at $11.50 to 12.50. One dealer reports sales at $13 and $13.50, the last-named price being for all 6-inch fencing.

The market is developing slowly, and few sales of blocks have been made. The indications are that during the early portion of the season, at least, a larger proportion of the lumber sold will pass through the hands of commission men here than for several like previous periods. Yard men will buy only as they need the lumber for their trade in the near future, and they will negotiate for it through the commission houses instead of going to the trouble and expense of ranging among the mills for it. The exceptions to this rule will be among the larger concerns which must have lumber coming rapidly in order to supply a heavy run of orders.

Lake rates remain unchanged. Nothing is coming out of Lake Superior, and receipts from that district will not amount to much before May.

Prices for poplar are claimed by mill men to be slightly firmer, but the larger proportion of sales are still made at less than prices named in the association list. Demand is hardly up to expectations, but, nevertheless, at most of the mills lumber is going out as fast or faster than it is manufactured. Unless there shall be tides soon the log supply at the mills will be completely exhausted, many plants being already shut down. At best the log supply this season will be short and with anything like a normal trade during the latter half of the year, there is certain to be a scarcity of lumber.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

The sawing season is opening up well all over the northwest, and the majority of the mills are now running. They begin operations under favorable conditions from every standpoint except that of selling, and where manufacturing is expensive no direct returns for money expended can be figured out. But it is true that manufacturing will be carried on this season somewhat cheaper than in the past, which is but to be expected and due, owing to the changed condition of affairs.

Trade at the head of the lakes is still light, and but little has yet been sold for future delivery. The sawing capacity at Duluth has been increased nearly 80,000,000 feet, and more of an effort than ever is being made to market Duluth district lumber by water. In Wisconsin, as a general thing, a fair trade is being enjoyed, although it it not as good, comparatively, as it was a couple of months ago. Trade at Minneapolis remains in about the same condition as it has been, although a better feeling all around is noticed. Down river mill men report an improvement in the demand. Especially is this true at Winona, Dubuque and Clinton, and La Crosse mill men are holding their own.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot does not appear to undergo much change. There are occasional rumors of sub-rosa deals with speculative motive implied, but they cannot be traced to any reliable source, and the actual business, so far as is known, is confined to the regular distribution of supplies on trade orders from regular sources. Prices show no important variation. On the average range of valuation we quote at 9½@9⅝c. for Lake and 9@9⅜c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper has about an average demand from regular sources, with probably a little gain in the general volume of movement of late. Since the recent revision of the list rates greater uniformity has been shown, and cut figures are said to be rare. Ordinary lines of consumption are using less stock than last year. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 15c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 16c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 17c.; do, 8 to 10 oz., 20c.; do. under 8 oz., 22c. Sheets longer than 72 inches add 1c. for 12@16 oz., 2c. for 10@12 oz., and 3c. for 8@10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 16c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 18c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 22c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 25c. Sheets longer than 96 inches 14c. for over 32 oz. and add 1c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 1c. 14 to 16 oz.; 1c. 12 to 14 oz.; 1c. for 10 to 12 oz., and 2c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz., 14c.; do, 16 to 32 oz., 16c.; do, 14 to 16 oz., 18c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 20c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 24c. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 14@17c. for 32 to 64 oz.; 19@22c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 21@27c. for 14 to 16 oz. and —@—c. for 12 to 14 oz. Bolt copper, ⅜ inch diameter and over, 14c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do do, 4c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 18@24c. per lb. IRON—American Pig does not find an altogether satisfactory market. Demand fluctuates and apparent good promises of today are quite likely to be followed by very dull tone to-morrow, the general results in actual business proving quite moderate. A sufficient control over supplies is maintained to prevent an undue pressure to realize, but the offerings are plentiful enough and the tone on value weak for all grades, although in a nominal way old figures are generally named. Foreign grades are very dull. We quote at $12.50@13.50 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $12.00@13.00 for No. 2 X do., and $11.00@12.50 for Gray Forge; Scotch pig iron, $20@22. Old material, since last report, has received rather more attention. Considerable stock was taken for export, and that in turn seemed to stir up home buyers, making altogether a very fair demand. As a rule supplies balanced the outlet. We quote at $11.50@12.50 for old iron rails; $10.00@11.00 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $9.50@10.50 for cast scrap; $10.00@11.50 for old car wheels, and $6.00@10.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron finds increased attention, if anything, and some houses are said to be booking quite a fair run of orders. The competition to secure passing custom is, however, keen, and prices have to be kept as low as heretofore. We quote Beams up to 15-inch, 1.75@2c.; 20-inch, 2.10@2.25c. for round lots; Angles, 1.75@1.90c.; Tees, 2@2.15c.; Channels, 1.80@2c. on dock. Steel plates are 1.65@1.90c. for Tank; 1.90@2.10c. for Shell; 2@2.15c. for Flange, and 2.50@2.80c. for Fire Box on dock; Refined Bars are 1.60@1.90c. on dock, and Common, 1.45@1.60c. Steel rails have not much attention beyond an ordinary routine demand, and calls as made are met with dispatch, while in the matter of cost the previous figures represent about regulation changes. We quote standard sections $24@25 per ton at mill, with usual advances for delivery at tide water. Pig lead has been selling principally on an ordinary run of trade orders with the market free from features of an unusual character. Holders seem to retain very good control over the supply and offer nothing except at full rate for all deliveries. We quote at $3.45@3½c. per lb. The manufactures of lead are quoted at 5¾c. for Pipe, 6½c. for Sheet, 15c. for Tin-lined Pipe, and 37½c. for Block Tin Pipe. Pig Tin remains under very good control, and the spot offerings are quite generally found to be of an indifferent character with owners contesting for firm prices. Demand is fair from regular source. We quote at about 19.60@19⅝c. for round lots, and 19¼@19⅞c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plate is called for in a slow, conservative manner, buyers steadily refusing to anticipate their wants. Supplies, however, remain under control and that neutralizes the effect of dull trade by giving fair support to values. We quote as follows: I. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $6.25@6.30; Charcoal, Melyn grade, crosses, $7.75½; I. C. Charcoal, Allaway grade, $5.40@5.50; Allaway grade, crosses, $6.60; Charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $7.20@7.25; M. F. grade, 20x28, $14.50@14.55; Worcester, 14x20, $5.70@5.75; Worcester, 20x28, $11.25@11.30; Alyn grade, 14x20, $5.20@5.25; Alyn grade, 20x28, $10.25@10.40; D. R. D. grade, 14x20, $5.00@5.05; D. R. D. grade, 20x28, $9.75@9.80; I. C. Coke, Penlan grade, $5.10@5.15; J. B. grade, 14x20, $5.15@5.20; I. C. Bessemer steel, squares, $5.10@— basis; I. C. Siemens steel, squares, $5.50@— basis. Spelter does not meet with much, if any, improvement in demand, but there has for some time been quite keen competition among manufacturers, resulting in placing supplies at lower figures. We quote 3½@3⅝c. for Common Western, according to brand.

The following significant extract from the Iron Trade Review, of Cleveland, Ohio, comes to us under date of 26th inst.:

"Attention has been concentrated in the iron trade the past week on the coal miners' strike and the advances that have come in some departments of the market, partly in consequence of fuel scarcity and partly because of continuing heavy demand. Blast furnaces depending upon Connellsville coke have no accumulated stock of fuel, and if the strike continues it can be only a matter of a few days when all will be out of blast. In pig iron the feature of the situation is continued firmness in Bessemer. Valley furnaces that have sold at $9.75 have had offers at $10. At Pittsburg $10.75 is the quotation of some sellers, and transactions are reported at $10. The Eastern demand for Bessemer from Pittsburg and valley furnaces continues, and has been a factor in causing the advance. Steel billets are also firmer and mills have advanced prices about 25c. a ton, $15.75 and 15.90 being current at Pittsburg. Finished material shows a stronger market outside of bar iron and steel. Pittsburg mills have been adding to their order books, and on some descriptions of plates prices have advanced $2 to $5 a ton over the lowest point touched.

NAILS.—Demand continues moderately active and without apparent tendency to hurry or expand. Buyers are not competing for supplies as many of the trade had calculated, and they find an offering awaiting all the orders placed. About the former general range of values is named, but with admissions of irregularity and an inclination in buyers' favor. We quote Cut at 95c.@$1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.10@1.20 per keg for par-sale from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.00@1.10 for car lots, and $1.20@1.30 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Demand has not expanded into much if any greater volume since last report nor does it seem to have taken new phases. What buyers most want and insist upon are increases of stock carefully measured up to immediate requirements of regular trade, and it is very rare that investments beyond that line are indulged in. The selections, too, are of a careful character and confined to thoroughly staple articles, a great many customers reporting that so far as fancy goods are concerned they have an old supply on hand to work with for the present. Oil colors and ready-mixed paints secure a sort of regular attention from dependent localities, but the supply is ample, freely offered and generally at about former rates. Dry colors have no special degree of animation, beyond about the usual proportionate limit to other goods and on the average show a steady tone. The combination of Paris Green manufacturers has figured out a new schedule and the valuations fixed are as follows: In arsenic, kegs or casks, 20c.; kegs, 100 to 175 lbs., 20½c.; 14, 28 and 56-lb iron cans or boxes, net weight only, 22c.; 2 to 5-lb. paper boxes, 22c.; 1-lb. do, 22½c.; ½-lb. do, 24½c.; ¼-lb. do, 26½c. From above values a rebate of 1@3c. will be allowed as to quantity ordered. Of zincs the deliveries are less liberal as many of the contracts are fairly well filled and no new demand prevails sufficient to create animation. Leads have somewhat uncertain demand, but are of too staple character to meet positive neglect. List rates remain but the selling basis is much lower, all hands cutting freely when sales depend upon such action. Corrodors' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 6½c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 5.94c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 5¾c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c., and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil retains a fair measure of attention from regular lines of custom and upon a steady basis for all first-class makes of stock. Irregularity on poor grades is occasionally shown, but pressure to realize is not resorted to with freedom. We quote at 48@49c. for Western, 52@53c. for City from domestic seed and 58@60c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine is slow of sale, but small supplies at all points keep the market firm, at about former rates. We quote at 30½@31c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Supplies in stock and arriving are said to have been only about nominal of late, and that afforded sellers a fairly good advantage. Demand came from regular sources to extent of immediate consuming wants, and buyers made no objection to payment of former rates. We quote Tar at $1.75@1.80 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.25@2.30 in pork bbls., and $3.25@3.30 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

THE markets continue to suffer the consequences of the delays and uncertainties attending the Tariff Bill in Congress and are additionally burdened by the prospect of a very dull summer as a consequence of the obstructions that have been placed in the way of commerce, of gold shipments and other things that always have a tendency to disturb prices. For instance, the disagreements which prepare the way to settlements of disputes between different classes of securities issued on properties in the hands of receivers are becoming quite prominent and as a result the stocks and junior bonds of such properties suffer. The recent declaration of the holders of the Reading "generals" to enforce the terms of their mortgage will doubtless compel the Income bonds and stock to do something to keep themselves alive and it is essentially proper that this should be so. In Atchison, it is said, and the probabilities point that way, that the greatest sacrifices will be demanded of the guaranteed bonds, which sacrifices will be enforced even if it is necessary to foreclose the first mortgage to bring them about. The investigation of Northern Pacific affairs will do a great deal of good in ventilating one of the most reckless cases of railroad financing in the country, especially if it results in compelling restitution. In the Industrial Stocks the features have been Lead and Sugar; the former has been put up on reports, doubtless unfounded, of a forthcoming dividend, and the latter, as everyone knows, has been manipulated on Washington news. There are signs of coming collapse in both movements.

THE first of May slipped by this year with unusual quietude in the Labor world. There were strikes in progress, it is true, but they were not the outcome of that spring fever which annually fills the workingman's breast at the appearance of the foliage and other green things. The absence of any agitation about the eight hours day was particularly noticeable because for some years past the first of May has recurred as an anniversary for demonstrations favoring a reduction in the hours of labor. To the universal dull times in all countries, protectionist, free trade, monarchical and republican, is no doubt to be attributed the peace and quietude we enjoy, but as what the physicians call a "predisposing cause" there was undoubtedly that change of sentiment which has affected the world in the last year or two in relation to this much debated matter. A great deal of the old rancor, hot headedness and prejudice which in the past marked a large part of all that was written and said on the subject of shorter hours of labor has died out, passed away if one may say so in direct ratio with the extension of experience. It is curious, indeed, how long it took before experience was called into this controversy. Theory was allowed to say a great deal on the matter and the self interests of one side and another still more. The very last instructor to be given a hearing was Experience, and Experience, so far as it has spoken up to the present has rather tended to show that the controversy has been in no small part a wrong headed and empty one. The cry of the theorist and the cry of the employer has been that the adoption of an eight-hours day would proportionately decrease the productiveness of labor, and consequently the wealth of the community. Nothing seemed more certain than that the output of eight hours work must be smaller than the output of nine or more hours of labor and even the workingman himself did not controvert the notion. He assumed its correctness and then sought to override the interests of the hated capitalist by force. It turns out, however, that the certainty is no certainty. In some directions at least the accepted conclusions are positively erroneous. Experience has commenced to instruct people. The Salford Iron Works, on the other side, employ 1,500 men. It happens that this important Lancashire establishment is controlled by a public-spirited ironmaster, Mr. William Mather, who has just published a report upon the operation of the eight-hour system in his establishment. His men formerly worked fifty-three hours a week. A year ago the time of labor was reduced to forty-eight hours, and the effect of the change was carefully noted. The result of the experiment of reducing the hours of labor by 10 per cent a week is that it entailed a decrease of only a half of one per cent in the amount of the product turned out, and even this deficiency was offset by certain economies. This experience is not an isolated one. Mr. Allen, in his engineering works at Sunderland, has obtained similar results, and now the British Government has been so impressed by the results of these experiments that it has voluntarily introduced the eight hour system into the national arsenals and dockyards. It can hardly be doubted that the effect of these examples will be widespread, and that in a large number of industries shorter labor than hitherto will soon prevail. Herbert Spencer has decried the modern "apotheosis of work." It is true the commercial nations of the world have acquired the habit of glorifying work as though civilization is very largely a matter of keeping the multitude in a state of perpetual "demnition grind." We have come to admire the spectacle of as many people as possible toiling for as many hours as possible. The highest humanity has ceased to be with us that possessing the largest intellectual view and the greatest enlightened leisure, but that which labors most arduously in the factory and counting-house, grinding out the greatest quantity of goods and totaling up the biggest figures. Serenity, dignity and charm of life have scarcely any place any longer in the popular ideal of human existence. We can scarcely conceive that States

"though very poor, may still be very blest."

The commercial aspect of life has done so much to exclude all others from our view and to render the making of dollars and cents the highest pursuit of the human race. Shortening the hours of labor, even though it be accompanied by fewer yards of cotton cloth and fewer tons of iron, would be, we believe, a blessing, but probably the reduction would be slower in coming did not people discover that the human being can be a more highly organized and more productive piece of machinery working eight hours a day than eighteen.

THE most conspicuous evidence of the prevalent dullness in real estate has been furnished by the auction market. Everybody has noticed it. Even the daily papers which have been talking in so ridiculous a strain about the "boom in real estate," the "activity of the market," the "firmness of prices," and trash of a similar kind, intending to tickle the ears of readers in proportion to the length of the organ, have had something to say about the dullness of the auction market. The lethargy in this department has been too pronounced and conspicuous to be gainsaid. Some attempts have been made to account for it, or rather to get around it and harmonize it with the aforesaid roseate views. The commonest story current is that the auction business has been dull because of the unfortunate division among the auctioneers, whereby there are now two exchanges in operation instead of one; that the superfluity of places where real estate may be sold has been the reason why auction sales have been so few. This notion has not been altogether unacceptable to people, and indeed it would be foolish to deny that the duplication of the Liberty street salesroom at 111 Broadway has conduced rather towards a diminution of sales than an increase of them. At the same time the duplication has undoubtedly stimulated rivalry and activity among auctioneers to a degree that under normal circumstances would have offset the evils of division. The fact is the dullness of the auction market must be sought elsewhere than in the division of the auctioneers. It is to be found almost entirely in the general dullness of the whole real estate world. The auction business is a very good indication of the tone of the real estate market. The former cannot be active in times of stagnation like those existing at present, for it depends for its activity upon the prevalence of the speculative spirit, and the speculative spirit is never rampant and aggressive when prices are declining or stationary. Now, the very best that can be said of prices for the last twelve months is that they have been stationary. As a matter of fact they have not, on the whole, been even that. The tendency of values has been to a lower plane, not in an extreme or an unwholesome way, but clearly what pressure there is or has been is and was exerted downward. There has been no buoyancy in the market for more than a year The auction market has reflected this condition very faithfully, and that is the true reason of the dullness. But, though many speak of it, not everybody realizes how dull auctioneering has been. Relatively speaking, it has never been duller save in the darkest years following the panic of 1873, and now, as then, the great bulk of the transactions that have taken place have been foreclosures.

The first four months of 1893 were not particularly busy ones on the Exchange; nevertheless the value of realty sold then amounted to $19,500,000. In the same months of the current year, on the two Exchanges now running, only $11,250,000 worth of property was sold. This falling off is remarkable, but of even greater significance than the mere totals is the proportion which the foreclosure sales this year have borne to the total transactions. Of the $11,250,000 worth of property knocked down under the hammer this year $6,000,000 was under foreclosure proceedings, and as a large part of the remainder was sold in partition it will be seen how insignificant the free offerings were. Moreover, as to the foreclosure sales, a large part of them were unsatisfactory, that is, they did not realize the amount which the property was put up to satisfy. To some extent, perhaps to a great extent, this was due, not entirely to poor prices, but to the exorbitant charges upon the property. Many parcels have come to the market laden with indebtedness more than equal to their fullest value. The $6,000,000 worth of property offered under foreclosure was put up to satisfy announced claims of more than $5,000,000, but even this $5,000,000 does not cover all the charges. It may be interesting to add that nearly $3,500,000 worth of what was sold was purchased by plaintiffs. In view of such figures all talk about activity in real estate is ludicrous. It is the hairbrained chatter of irresponsible ignorance. The speculative spirit must be revived before there can be any revival in the auction market, and speculation will not pick up until prices once more take a decided upward turn. At present there are no signs of an immediate revival. The best that can be said of the market is that it is no worse than it is. During the last twelve months real estate has been subjected to an enormous strain, The fact that it has stood that strain without any serious deflection is an indisputable guarantee of the strong foundation on which it stands, and of the comparative absence of that fictitious element which in times like these would have been declared by disasters of no slight proportions.

Private Property.—VIII.*

By Richard T. Ely, University of Wisconsin.

THE FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF PRIVATE PROPERTY.

It is desired to develop the institution of private property further, and this development must have in view the social purposes which private property subserves. What are these social purposes? One of them is clearly a large production of material wealth. Property serves as one of the main incentives to production. The hope of acquiring property stimulates men to put forth their best efforts in the economic field. This is what Arthur Young had in mind when long ago he said: "The magic of private property turns sand into gold."

The second purpose which private property subserves is the development of personality. So long as man himself is a material being, he must need control over some portion of external nature and the most artistic productions of the mind require a material basis. A chief function of private property is to promote personality.

The possibility of the enjoyment of nature must be kept in view in the development of private property. The wonders and beauties of nature should be readily accessible to all. Private property must not be allowed to stand in the way of the enjoyment of nature, for if it does so it becomes anti-social.

The possibilities of the collective use of certain species of property must not be lost sight of. An article of clothing or food must be used individually, but a great work of art may offer enjoyment to countless thousands. Public parks and pleasure grounds in general are capable of collective use, and for objects of this kind the collective use is that which is likely to offer the largest total satisfactions if this collective use is properly regulated.

Another aim which should not be lost sight of is the better protection of private property in its own sphere. At the present time, in particular, private property is too often held to be anything but sacred. The assumptions of men with respect to private property often amount to the most impudent presumption. If the general public takes a fancy to use for pleasure your private property, it often seems to be thought unnecessary even to ask permission to enjoy it. College boys have been known to regard it as a huge joke to plunder gardens, and there are cities in this country in or near which it is almost hopeless to attempt to grow fruit or vegetables on one's own land. The better protection of private property in its own sphere is indeed called for.

The development of property must be largely the result of self-conscious social activity. In other words, society having determined on what is desirable, must shape the institution in order to secure the accomplishment of these desirable ends. It appears to the writer that this development at the present time should take four directions, chiefly: First, restriction of the extent of private property and corresponding extension of public property; second, the development of the social side of private property; third, the extension of private property along certain lines; fourth, changes in the modes of acquisition of private property.

Let us take up the first direction in the desirable development of property, having in mind the aims which property should subserve. It is desirable to restrict private property and extend correspondingly public property. There have been cases in the past in which it was desirable to restrict private property without the substitution therefor of public property. Slavery is the best illustration, for it was in this case desirable to abolish the institution of private property in men and to make the slaves free. At the present time, such changes in private property must be exceptional. The provision of pleasure grounds of all sorts, including playgrounds for children, furnishes a simple illustration. At the present moment, these grounds can be furnished all only through public ownership. If there is an attempt to trust to private property for pleasure grounds only a few will enjoy them, and thus the legitimate need for enjoyment of the vast majority will remain unsatisfied. A man must be a very wealthy one who, even in a small city, can afford ample grounds for pleasure and recreation for himself and family. Any other plan than the collective use of grounds of this sort would imply enormous waste, were it by any means possible to furnish private grounds of the kind mentioned to all. The need is a real one and only very imperfectly satisfied. We have in some large cities public parks, but smaller cities have as a rule no pleasure grounds worthy of mention and playgrounds for children are almost unknown. A consequence of the failure to provide in the only practicable manner for these public needs is an invasion of private rights. Children having no playgrounds think it is a hard case if they are not allowed to use private property, and their use often means serious interference with the legitimate use of the private owner. Adults feel that picnic and pleasure grounds must be furnished by private persons, and too often their use is likewise attended by serious abuse. It frequently happens that on account of this abuse the innocent suffer with the guilty. Not many years ago, a beautiful island in a river near a German city belonged to a private owner. This owner good-naturedly allowed a very free use of the island to the general public; but there were often some to abuse the privilege and injure his property. Consequently the many who were well intentioned were deprived of the opportunity of enjoying nature on this island, and there was no other like opportunity accessible. Ultimately the city purchased the island, regulated its public use and threw it open to all. In this manner through proper public activity a true need of society was satisfied, and at the same time the measure tended to protect private property in its own sphere.

Natural wonders and historical scenes and objects should become public property. The ownership of the land surrounding Niagara Falls was felt by the people of New York State to be anomalous. Whether they could explain it or not, they knew instinctively that private property was out of place there. It was indeed a monstrous claim on the part of individuals to demand payment for the privilege of viewing one of the most beautiful objects in the world—a marvel which the hand of man could neither create nor improve. Private ownership under such circumstances must through its inevitable operation upon the minds, tend to weaken the institution as a whole. Fortunately an association of public spirited gentlemen was formed to promote the acquisition of the land surrounding Niagara Falls and it was ultimately acquired by the public both in New York State and in Canada. An association having like ends in view has been formed in Massachusetts and its activity is most commendable. There still remains, however, much to be done to secure public ownership of natural wonders in this and other countries. Places like the Garden of the Gods in Colorado should never be allowed to become private property, or if they have become private property they should as quickly as possible be secured by the public. An illustration which occurs to the writer is afforded by Monticello, Virginia. Probably everyone who has visited Monticello, the old home of Jefferson, has felt that there was something wrong in the private ownership of this historical and beautiful spot.

Forests call to mind another reform in the institution of private property. It is in every respect essential that a country should have an ample supply of forests suitably located. Whole mountain sides and the land about the sources of streams should be covered with trees. What is wanted is a supply of lumber, but also the prevention of floods and droughts, as well as the certain climatic influences produced by forests. It appears from the experience of many lands, as well as from examination of the nature of forestry, that it is only through public ownership and management that we can have the needed supply. Space is too limited to permit an exhaustive treatment of this subject here. It may be pointed out, however, that rational forestry requires that plans should be made for 120 years in advance, and that private persons will not look so far ahead. Even where we have private forestry, we find the product much smaller than under a system of public forestry. This proposition seems to be undisputed by all experts. The product under public forestry is not only larger, but very much larger, so that a smaller area of land will furnish the lumber needed under public ownership and management.

It is also worth considering that public forestry at the same time makes it easy to furnish large pleasure grounds for public use. All over Germany the public forests are at the same time magnificent public parks and add very materially to the enjoyment of life in Germany, as every foreigner who has lived there must have felt. German cities frequently own forests which adjoin thickly settled portions of the city, so that one may almost in a moment pass from the city to a great forest. Heidelberg may be instanced. Frankfort-on-the-Main also owns a beautiful forest of some thirty thousand acres which is easily accessible. Lynn, in Massachusetts, has made a beginning in this direction. It is in every respect desirable that our American cities should move in this direction. Forestry can well be combined with the water works of a city, for it is desirable on account of a pure supply of water that reservoirs should be surrounded by public land which can be planted with trees. For the same reasons both banks of streams which furnish the water supply should be public property, and they should be covered with trees likewise.

Brooklyn's New Building Law.

FOR the most part the new building law for Brooklyn is the same as the present New York City building law. With one bound one of the largest cities in the United States has gone from a law that would be a discredit to the smallest city to a law that may be pronounced the second best building law in this country; the New York law being the first best. If any person finds fault with what has been omitted or what has been included in the Brooklyn law, let that person remember that such a law is formulated by a body of men, lawyers and laymen, the Corporation Counsel and his assistants, the Commissioner of Buildings, Architects, Builders and Insurance men, and the views and prejudices of these men must be respected. No individual has his own way in getting up a building law, nor indeed is any individual, lawyer, architect or builder, solely and alone, equal to the production of a building law in all its constructional and legal parts. If any one individual on a committee assumes to know too much, however qualified he may be, he loses his influence with the other members, and the law as a whole suffers. The best that can be got is in the nature of an amicable compromise of differences of opinions, or the will of a majority of the committee on the various subject matters. This was the case with the Brooklyn law, as it was with the New York law, and has been with the building laws in all the large cities. Under such circumstances, unavoidable and inevitable, no building law is perfect and none is ever likely to be perfect.

The arrangement of the Brooklyn law is the same as the New York law. It commences with excavations, goes on with foundations, continues with walls for dwelling houses and warehouses, through the limitation of area for non-fire-proof buildings, the two laws being almost identical in language, until the section making requirements for tenement houses is reached, and then the Brooklyn law makes a bad break by not requiring, as the New York law does, that tenement houses, apartment houses and lodging houses, five stories in height, shall have one floor fire-proof, and when more than five stories in height shall have the halls and stairs inclosed with brick walls and the floors and stairs within such inclosure constructed fire-proof. All this was not allowed to go into the law at all. For a time the requirement that the walls of light and vent shafts should be of brick or other fire-proof materials was kept out, but finally inserted in the law. The requirement that chimney flues shall be lined with pipes was put in the Brooklyn law at first, but afterwards stricken out, although this erasure was not by order of the committee. The lining of smoke flues with pipes is deemed by fire underwriters as being of very great importance, as by far the largest number of fires originate from defective flues, and causes the greatest loss of property and life.

The next important difference between the two laws is the matter of fire limits, or the limits within which frame buildings, except as specially provided for, shall not be erected. In New York the building law establishes the lines. In Brooklyn the power to establish and extend such lines rests with the Common Council. That the present lines in Brooklyn are inadequate is conceded by the best authorities, but for reasons that have been deemed sufficient to the Aldermen, the extensions of the fire limits have not kept pace with the rapid growth of the city. Frame buildings outside of the fire limits shall conform to such rules and regulations as the Commissioner of Buildings shall make regarding thickness of timber and other details.

Frame buildings on the docks and wharves at the water front of the city are unlimited as to area, but must not be higher than one story or twenty-five feet to the eaves, and must conform to such requirements as to foundations, thickness of timber and manner of construction as the Commissioner of Buildings may impose.

The theatre section in the two laws is substantially the same. In this respect the New York law was copied rather too closely, for a clerical and unintentional error which took away from the Fire Department and put into the Building Department the charge and control of all apparatus for extinguishing fire or guarding against the same in theatres in New York, has been repeated in the law for Brooklyn.

No Board of Examiners is provided for in the Brooklyn law. The powers conferred on such a board in New York to vary or modify the law under certain conditions is, in the Brooklyn law, vested in the Commissioner of Buildings.

Surveys on unsafe buildings is provided for in the Brooklyn law, but not in the manner that the New York law provides, where one person must always be taken from the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

The Brooklyn law does not prohibit, as the New York law does, the officials of the Department of Buildings from carrying on any building business. Before Brooklyn can consistently put in her building law any such prohibition she should pay her officials sufficient salaries to warrant them in giving their undivided attention to public business.

The legal proceedings for the enforcement of the law and to correct violations is substantially the same in the Brooklyn law as in the New York law. A permit to build in Brooklyn, but under which no building work is commenced within one year from the time it is issued, will expire by limitation. The Commissioner of Buildings is given power to revoke and cancel any permit issued by him in case the person to whom the same is issued fails to comply with the law.

The power is conferred the Commissioner of Buildings by the Brooklyn law to investigate, examine and inquire into the origin, details and facts of any supposed cases of violations of the building law, and of the rules and regulations of the Department of Buildings, and also into all charges made against the officers, agents and employes of the Department for misconduct, neglect or non-performance of duty. In and about any such examination, investigation or inquiry, touching any matter or thing connected therewith, the Commissioner may subpoena and compel the attendance of any person or persons, and the production of any books, papers or documents in his or their possession, or under his or their control, connected with and necessary in the judgment of the Commissioner to such examination, investigation or inquiry, before him at the time and place therein named. A failure to answer questions or to produce papers will be punished as for contempt of court. How these inquisitorial powers will work in practice, and whether abuses will arise under their exercise, the future can only reveal.

There are a number of sanitary provisions and Health Board powers existing in the title or portion of the city charter which includes the building regulations, and of necessity are continued and become part of the new building law.

The new Brooklyn law has not yet been signed by the Governor and, until he signs it, remains simply a bill passed by both branches of the Legislature. The Governor has until the 27th instant to approve or veto the bills now in his hands. That he will approve this bill may be accepted as an assured fact. The law is to take effect thirty days after its passage; that is, thirty days after the Governor signs his approval of the same. The law will not affect buildings now in process of erection, nor buildings not yet in process of erection, plans for which were filed and approved within sixty days prior to the date when the Governor may sign the new law, provided that the erection of the said buildings shall be in good faith commenced within sixty days subsequent to the date of the Governor's signature to the new law. The law was first drafted "to take effect immediately." It was afterward changed "to take effect thirty days after its passage." As before explained, the date when a bill is passed is the date when it receives the Governor's signature of approval. When the change was made from "immediately" to "thirty days" ahead, the phraseology connected with the sixty days prior filing of plans, and the sixty days subsequent within which the buildings must be commenced, should also have been changed, and this failure to make all the changes that should properly have been made together, leaves an uncertainty as to whether plans hereafter filed within the thirty days between the date when the law is signed and when it goes into effect will have to accord with the old law or the new. As the legislative intent was to give the public thirty days' time in which to prepare for a radical change in the building laws, and about which architects, builders and owners will not have much, if any, facilities for knowing what the new law really is for at least thirty days, it would seem that a common-sense construction would be that all plans filed prior to the date when the new law is actually to go into effect will come under the old law, particularly if the work of building thereunder is to be proceeded with at once.

It is needless to point out that the new building law is an improvement beyond comparison upon the old inadequate antiquated regulations which have hitherto governed building in Brooklyn. The well-nigh criminal deficiencies in this important department of municipal government have hitherto been a disgrace. The new law puts Brooklyn on a line with other large cities of the country, and should receive, as we are sure it will, the hearty support of all the reputable members of the Building Trade, and of all citizens who are interested in the welfare and advancement of their city.

WE printed last week an account of the progress that has been made of late towards the organization in this city of a Building Trades' Exchange; and, needless to say at this day, and especially in the case of the interests concerned in this particular enterprise, organization involves the erection of a suitable building. It is probably entirely supererogatory for us to utter a word in recommendation of a project such as this, which justifies itself financially and in other even more important respects "on sight." Indeed, the only side of the matter calling for explanation is why the project was not put on foot substantially and realized successfully several years ago. Certainly the delay has not been because our builders and building material men have not felt and acknowledged the need of a well-organized exchange commensurate in its personnel, scope of plan and housing with the really gigantic interests which centre in the building craft in the metropolis. The fact has frequently been commented upon that Philadelphia, Boston, and even towns of lesser population and wealth have for years been far ahead of New York in the character, dignity and usefulness of their building exchanges. At times it has been urged by way of explanation of New York's deficiency that our people are too busy, too actively concerned with personal affairs to interest themselves in a general project such as the formation of an exchange in which they are not immediately concerned. Undoubtedly the spirit of this argument in part accounts for the attitude of aloofness which has marked the reception which New York builders and building material men have hitherto given to the several suggestions and plans for the organization of an adequate exchange which have been put forth from time to time. Appreciation of the fact that a live exchange, instituted upon broad lines, would have a business value and would be of direct daily usefulness in the personal affairs of practically all the members of the building trades has undoubtedly been lacking, but in the last two years misapprehension upon this point has been materially lessened, and the movement now on foot has the indorsement and support of the leading builders and material men of the city. We published last week a list of the subscribers to the new exchange. It is so weighty as to leave scarcely any doubt of the success of the movement. The Building Trades Exchange can very easily be quite as important and wealthy an institution as the Produce Exchange. Indeed it should excel the latter, for the interests it would represent are certainly greater than those that centre in the institution at Bowling Green. As a local organization it should have greater force, as it would stand in much closer relationship to the growth and welfare of the metropolis than any other exchange in New York.

THE architect has always assumed the position that advertising of any kind is of all things the most distasteful to him, but we judge there must be something hypocritical in this aversion to public notoriety, from the loud and decidedly bitter complaints which have been made recently by leading British architects on the score that whereas the public press frequently prints the names of the builders and even the decorators of important edifices, it completely ignores the existence and work of the architect. In order to obtain a due measure of publicity, it is proposed that the architect's name shall be graven in some conspicuous spot on every building. It would be interesting to inquire at whose expense the carving is to be done; for this proposition (which, by the way, we regard as an excellent one), tends to corroborate the suspicion which we have long held that, in nine cases out of ten, the professional distaste for advertising is only a grandiloquent device for avoiding expenditure. On the whole, there is probably no class of men who value and rightly value the advantage of the "Ad," pure and simple, as architects do. The only trouble is that other people directly or indirectly pay for what the architect in a devious way endeavors to obtain for nothing. Indeed, some of our architects are adepts at securing the "big puff," the "reading notice," the "mention," the "personal item" and other fictitious forms of advertising known in newspaper offices, without obtaining them as other people do by means of financial preliminaries at the office of publication. Only recently at the opening of a certain fashionable club the architects of the building had a well-organized information bureau in full blast with printed slips and well-instructed showmen for the dissemination of "news" among curious reporters who might interest themselves in the structure. The advertising spirit was quite pronounced in the information that was given out. Moreover, to speak plainly, what are these annual League and other exhibitions of architects' drawings but methods of advertising? and is no exaggeration to say that the catalogues issued with these displays are notable experiments in the genial art of blackmailing. Nobody who has taken the trouble to peruse these somewhat voluminous pamphlets can have failed to notice the disproportion between the few pages of catalogue and engravings and the great bulk of the advertising. When these publications are issued nearly every building material firm within reach is coerced to take "space" and many are the complaints that from time to time reach our ears. "We have to take space," is the cry of the afflicted when questioned. "The advertisement does us no good, but the architects are somehow interested in these catalogues and the broad hint is given to us that we shall be remembered with disfavor if we do not advertise." The matter indeed is carried further than this. Architects of high standing give letters to be delivered to contractors of buildings which they have designed, saying that they (the architects) would esteem it a great favor if so-and-so and so-and-so would do what they could for the publication. Under the circumstances, of course, this is equivalent to a "stand and deliver," and scores of building material firms make loud complaint of this petty pecuniary tyranny, which is worked for all it is worth. For the sake of their good name architects should put a stop to this petty blackmailing.

ADVERTISING or no advertising, however, the proposition to place the name of the architect on the building he designs is a good one. It would supply the passer by with information he would sometimes like to have but cannot obtain without an amount of labor he does not care to take. The date of the erection of every building might also be placed in some position where the curious can easily find it. It would enable the wayfaring man to acquire the chronology of the architecture of the city in which he lives, and would save the student an immense amount of uncertainty in hunting up official records. The majority of people study architecture (if we may use so elaborate a term for a dull superficial interest) in the streets and any device that assists the process is to be welcomed. It is of value, for instance, to see on the old Herald Building the date 1866, and on the Boreel Building 1878. It enables the eye to take at a glance the measure of the changes (we cannot speak of progress in these cases) that occurred in office building between those two dates.

Legislation at Albany.

ALBANY, May 3.—There are many important city bills in Governor Flower's hands, but a large proportion of them are political measures passed by the Republican majority in the Legislature over the heads of the Democratic Senators and Assemblymen from New York. It is to be suspected, therefore, that Governor Flower, a Democrat, will find some good excuse for vetoing them.

Nevertheless, there remained in Governor Flower's hands upon the adjournment of the Legislature a big batch of belated city bills introduced by Democratic Senators and Assemblymen from New York—most of them at the request of some city department—and these are likely to become laws.

As the readers of THE RECORD AND GUIDE are aware from the daily newspapers of New York City, Governor Flower gave a hearing yesterday upon all the New York bills; and a big delegation from the Chamber of Commerce and the Produce Exchange appeared. Mr Orr made the interesting statement that possibly a rapid transit commission would deem it wise to have a rapid transit road partly underground and partly elevated; underground down town in New York and upon iron stilts in the the northern part of Manhattan Island. The city authorities did not utter a word against this bill—both political parties being afraid to oppose the Referendum principle of the bill.

Governor Flower did not give any indication how he would act upon the rapid transit bill, although he did appear a little impressed by the arguments of ex-Judge Noah Davis, on behalf of the O. B. Potter estate, which does not wish an underground road built upon Broadway, that the bill might be unconstitutional, as indirectly loaning the city's credit to a private corporation.

Governor Flower to-day signed the Condemnation bill of Evarts, Choate & Beaman. This enables property-owners along the line of the elevated railroads to bring suits for damages against these roads with some certainty that the suit will reach a conclusion either for or against them. The elevated railroads fought this bill bitterly in the Legislature.

BILLS IN GOVERNOR FLOWER'S HANDS.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE correspondent went over to-day the city bills yet in Governor Flower's hands and found they were as follows:

Senator Saxton's bill declaring that all work in excess of a certain amount shall be done by the Dock Commissioners by contract.

Senator Sullivan's bill requiring the publication of election notices in two newspapers.

Senator Guy's bill increasing the salary of the Clerk of the City Court to $4,500.

Senator Cantor's bill authorizing the City of New York to expend $50,000 additional toward its share of elevating the tracks of the New York Central Railroad in Harlem.

Senator Coggeshall's bill increasing the salaries of the patrolmen of the fifth grade of New York policemen from $1,200 to $1,400.

Senator Robertson's bill repealing the law which authorizes the removal of the City Hall from City Hall Park.

Senator Ahearn's bill providing for the erection of a new court house in the Sixth Judicial District.

Senator Guy's bill permitting the construction of a street railway through 106th street, originally 110th street, was included, but the property owners "kicked," and now those upon 106th street are "kicking" and calling upon the Governor to veto the Act.

Senator Guy's bill to permit the repaving of Avenue A from 59th street to 86th street with granite blocks, at an expense not to exceed $200,000.

Senator Ahearn's bill authorizing the Counsel to the Corporation to advertise proceedings to acquire real estate for the city in two daily newspapers of the city beside the City Record.

Senator Ahearn's bill permitting the issuing of bonds to acquire title to the Corlears Hook Park lands.

Senator Ahearn's bill permitting the purchase of $50,000 worth of fire hydrants yearly.

Assemblyman Lawson's bill to pension the widows of employes of the Health Department who die from catching contagious diseases while in the service of the city.

Assemblyman Roche's bill authorizing the city to issue bonds to the amount of $50,000 to purchase land for an extension of the Van Cortlandt Park parade ground.

Assemblyman Marrin's bill appropriating $25,000 for a bridge over the Mott Haven Canal, at 138th street.

Assemblyman Lawson's bill defining the methods by which a lien may be discharged.

Assemblyman Marrin's bill providing for "a public place for the convenience of public travel and traffic" in Cedar Park, at Sedgwick and Walton avenues.

Assemblyman Sheffield's bill depriving the Sheriff of New York of his fees, amounting to $60,000 yearly, and giving him a salary of $20,000 annually.

Assemblyman Lawson's bill authorizing an increase of the compensation of the doormen of the park police.

Assemblyman Lawson's bill prohibiting the erection of any bone-boiling or equally noxious factory near any public park north of 59th street.

Assemblyman Sulzers's bill increasing the salary of the President of the Department of Taxes and Assessment to $8,000 annually, and of the Deputy Commissioners to $7,000 each.

Assemblyman Reilly's bill to lay out and establish Fort Washington Park, in the City of New York, at 155th street, on the property of James Gordon Bennett and Hugh N. Camp.

Assemblyman McDermott's bill giving authority to the Commissioners of the Street Cleaning Department to issue yearly permits to the owners of trucks to store their vehicles in the public streets.

Assemblyman Marrin's bill authorizing the purchase of land on Boscobel avenue for an approach to Washington Bridge.

Assemblyman Stein's bill increasing the yearly pay of the pensioned sergeants of police to $1,000.

Assemblyman Gleason's bill increasing the pay of attorney for the collection of arrears of personal taxes to $6,000.

Assemblyman Marrin's bill, with the following provisions:

SECTION 1. All deeds, mortgages, or other instruments affecting the title to land in the twenty-third or twenty-fourth Wards, of the city of New York, which have been recorded in the office of the register or county clerk of Westchester County, New York, between the first day of January, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, and the second day of January, eighteen hundred and seventy-five, are hereby declared to have been well and sufficiently recorded, with the same force and effect as if the same had been recorded in the proper office within the county of New York, and a copy of such deed or instrument appearing on the records in either of the said offices in Westchester County, when certified by the said register or county clerk, shall have the same effect, and be entitled to be read in evidence and to be recorded in the proper office of the county of New York with the same force and effect as the original thereof.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

Assemblyman Sheffield's bill permitting incoming Mayors to remove the head of each city department.

(Special to THE RECORD AND GUIDE.)

ALBANY, May 4.—Governor Flower has signed Sheffield's bill turning the $60,000 fees of the Sheriff of New York into the City Treasury and giving him a salary of $20,000, and Senator Saxton's bill declaring that the Dock Commissioners must give out by contract all work in excess of $500.

Recent Examples of Apartment Houses on the West Side.

Among the new buildings on West 66th street, the four apartment houses, Nos. 145, 147, 149 and 151, just about being completed on the 125 feet immediately adjoining the handsome and palatial "Marie Antoinette" apartment hotel, which fronts the Boulevard, cannot escape notice. These houses present a very imposing front and are observable from the Boulevard and intersecting avenues (because of the handsome appearance they present, being in the stately Romanesque style, of attractive material—brownstone and white limestone), notwithstanding the claims that the larger hotel has upon the attention of the onlooker. Certainly this says a great deal for the attractiveness of the four houses in question. They were erected from plans by Architect George Keister, by Mr. James O'Brien, the well-known plumber, who was the builder of the handsome and solid flats nearby at Nos. 5 and 7 West 65th street, in which he was very successful. Encouraged by the results of this previous work he is now breaking ground on the north side of 65th street, between Central Park West and the Boulevard, for the two fine flats which he will build on a plot 75x100.

It will be seen from the foregoing that Mr. O'Brien has favored one locality for carrying on his operations and in this it can be said he has exercised good judgment, because it is difficult to imagine a better position for the class of apartment houses that he erects, which are occupied by a good class of business people, and while they demand respectability of neighborhood and are not insensible to the advantages of contiguity to the great city park, require also accessibility to communications for transit to other parts of the city. All these advantages are found especially at the point where 66th street crosses the Boulevard. The adjacent property consists almost entirely of high-class apartment houses, occupied by people of means and reputation. Central Park is within a few minutes' walk to serve as a family recreation ground, while as for means of transit they include all that the city provides. The 66th street station of the elevated road is only a short block away, and at a still less distance are to be found several surface lines of the Metropolitan Traction Co.'s system, on which transfers are made at various points without additional charge. From the front windows of Mr. O'Brien's houses there is always to be seen the bright and animated prospect that the Boulevard presents at this point.

The houses themselves, as well as the apartments contained in them, are varied to meet the different tastes and requirements of tenants. They stand on a plot 125x100 feet and they are all about 89 feet in depth. No. 145 has a frontage of 37.6 feet, No. 147 one of 33 feet, No. 149 one of 27 feet, and No. 151 one of 27.6 feet. By these differences in the width of the front it has been possible to create a variety in the sizes and styles of the apartments which would not otherwise have been attainable. The fronts of the two first numbers are of brownstone to the top of the first story and white limestone above; the fronts of the other two are wholly of brownstone. In the arrangements of the interiors, the two wider houses contain apartments having the advantage of spaciousness with greater length of private hallway, etc. In some cases the inner bedrooms are connected by a small dressing-room, containing stationary ornamental washbowl, running water, etc., in others the space occupied by this dressing-room is given to the bedrooms. Then, again, in the two most easterly houses of the four, each floor contains two suites of seven rooms and bath each, and in the two most westerly houses there are on each floor two suites of six rooms and bath.

The entrances to these houses consist of handsome polished oak outer and inner doors with beveled glass panels, mosaic floors in rich colors and patterns, stained glass transoms, walls, ceiling, wainscoting and friezes of polished oak in smooth panels and decorative carved borders. The main hallways, staircases, entrance doors to the several apartments, etc., are also of polished oak throughout. The apartments are admirably planned to utilize all the available space to the best advantage. Let us inspect one for example: From the main hallway entrance is made to an inner hallway from which all the rooms open. The front is taken up with a parlor and alcove; next adjoining is a second parlor which can be thrown open to the first or separated from it as desired by means of sliding doors. A bath-room separates the parlors from the bedrooms, though opening only from the private hallway. Two convenient-sized bedrooms succeed and the hall ends at the dining-room door, which, by occupying the whole width of the suite, is a very commodious well-lit apartment, in some instances furnished with a fixed plate-glass ornamented sideboard and china closet. Beyond the dining-room is the kitchen and the servants' room, which by this arrangement is kept quite apart from the family's quarters. The trim of the parlor is of bird's-eye maple, the high mantel having a back of plate glass; the dining-rooms and hallways are trimmed in oak. In the dining-room and parlor are tiled fireplaces, in colors to harmonize with the general decoration of the rooms, which can be used for other means of heating besides the steam, with which all these houses are furnished. The decoration of the walls and ceilings is bright and tasteful. Closets are conveniently placed throughout the rooms.

Built under such superintendence it goes without saying that the plumbing is of a superior character. The kitchen, besides the usual accessories of ample closets, dumb-waiters and refrigerator, contain porcelain stationary wash-tubs, large range with gas stove attachment and boiler, and is wainscoted in King's cement, enameled, instead of wood. The plumbing of the bath-room is open, the pipes are nickel-plated, the floor is tiled, and the wainscoting is of King's cement, cut and enameled to imitate tiling; the bath-tub is porcelain-lined and decorated on the outside. The marble washstand holds a large decorated oval bowl. This method of decorating and fitting the bath-room conveys a sense of brightness and a promise of permanent cleanliness that is especially desirable in this part of the habitation. In the other items of hall lighting, gas fixtures, globes, and many other details too numerous to mention, but each of which has something to say of the character of the house, good taste in selection and placing is indicated.

It is not remarkable, after seeing all that is in these buildings, to find also that of the forty suites in the four houses nearly all are occupied by the best class of tenants, although the houses are not yet quite out of the workmen's hands.—(Communicated.)

MORTGAGE—LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have a lease of a building. The lease is recorded. The mortgage before the record will be foreclosed. My lawyer tells me that the buyer of the property need not acknowledge the lease. In other words the foreclosure breaks the lease and releases me also. You would oblige me very much if you would inform me by mail of your valued opinion. If I can go aheak and hire other premises, so that I can be ready to move as soon as the sale takes place.

Answer.—If you are made a party defendant to the action of foreclosure your rights as lessee will be cut off and the lease will be void from the time of sale. You can safely prepare to move to other premises.—LAW EDITOR.

Although the figures do not show it, there has been a little improvement in the real estate market this week. At private treaty some sales that had been hanging fire in apprehension on the part of the buyers of a weakening in prices, have been concluded, and the auction offerings of really desirable investment property have developed a disposition on the part of the investing class to take everything that is good at fair prices. From many different sides the statement is made that the only reason why there are not more sales is because owners are holding back for exorbitant profit. This has been the condition for a long while, but it applies only to the better classes of investment properties. As to non-productive property, values are down and have been down for some months, from the asking prices of a year ago. But there seems to be no good reason to expect any further material decline. The general judgment of the brokerage fraternity is that prices are pretty well at bed rock. The sales reported this week, in some directions, show fair profits. The southeast corner of Liberty and Church streets, sold by Jefferson M. Levy to Warren E. Dennis, through Hoffmann Bros., for $125,000, was purchased by Mr. Levy in 1889, from Richard Quirk, for $90,000. The property has been carrying itself meanwhile. The Stern residence, No. 816 5th avenue, sold to Commodore Gerry for about $130,000, was bought by Mr. Stern in March of last year for $75,000, but he had in the meantime rebuilt the house. Some notable auction sales are on the lists for the next three or four weeks, including almost all kinds of property in the metropolitan district. They will afford a satisfactory and decisive test of the strength of the market.

Notes and Items.

The Bank Commission has added the Real Estate Trust Company, of No. 30 Nassau street, to the list of designated depositories for the funds of the municipality.

The pressure on our columns incident to the 1st of May filings has crowded out a large amount of matter from this issue that will be published next week.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company have removed from No. 120 Broadway to their own new building, Nos. 37 and 39 Liberty street, extending through to Maiden lane. Entrances to the building are on both streets.

Adrian H. Muller & Sons have removed to their new offices, No. 24 Pine street.

One at least of the auction sales of the week was a success beyond anyone's expectations. Mr. William Kennelly sold at the Broadway salesroom, on Monday, in partition, the properties of the Estate of E. W. Van Voorhis. The offerings included a Hanover square parcel; four East Side tenements; four 4th avenue parcels; and two houses in Lexington avenue, and a house in East 36th street. Although the two Lexington avenue houses and the 36th street house were bought by heirs of the estate, the latter did not interfere to protect the other properties, and the competitors for these had things all to themselves. Besides the usual crowd of auction room attendants, who are always ready to take a good bargain when it comes their way, there were some outside bidders. The four four-story tenements, Nos. 633 to 639 5th street, did not attract much attention, for property away over in that section is not a favorite with investors, and they were struck down to A. S. Kalisher at $41,600—but little more than the value of the lots Interest was centred on the 4th avenue property. It is on the east side of the avenue, adjoining the corner of 13th street. The plot measures 74.9½ on the avenue, x91.4 on the north line, x48.5x 67.2, and there are four old three-story and basement brick houses used for business and tenements on the site. Heilner & Wolf became the purchasers at $76,550 at the end of a competition in which several bidders took part. The highest appraisement put upon the property before the sale was $68,000. Mr. Van Voorhis bought Nos. 127 and 129 in 1845 for $7,775. The other two parcels he had owned even longer, but at the rate for the two first named the whole property did not cost him probably over $16,000. The property will be worth the price paid for it only when reimproved. The old building, No. 114 Pearl street, sold for $38,100, to George W. Stevens. The building was an old one when Mr. Van Voorhis bought it in June, 1868, for $40,000. Then there was no elevated railroad in Pearl street, and the East and West Indian import trades were booming. The property rents for $3,000, but is now chiefly valuable for rebuilding purposes.

Frequenters of the auction rooms were deeply interested in the offerings by Peter F. Meyer, at the salesroom, on Thursday. They included eleven lots on Wadsworth avenue and 179th street, nine of which were of the 411 sold by the same auctioneer for the Morgenthau syndicate on May 26, 1891, and curiosity was great to know what they would bring in comparison with the high prices at which they were bought at that sale. The sale was well attended and there was some bona-fide bidding by some who desired to use the property, but mostly by speculators. But the sale was protected, and, although the owners could have parted with their property at figure within twenty-five to fifty dollars of the knock-down prices, these did not realize their expectations within three or four hundred dollars a lot. Only one lot was sold, and that was not in the Morgenthau sale. Alexander Brothers, real estate speculators, got the southeast corner of Kingsbridge road and 184th street, 25.2¾x103.1⅝x25x99.8¼ for $4,600—a decided bargain. Two lots on the west side of Wadsworth avenue were bid in at $2,850 each. Neighboring lots in the same block sold in the Morgenthau sale for $2,500 and $2,575. Two on the east side of the same avenue were bid in at $2,800 each, that were bought at the Morgenthau sale for $5,150 for both. Two lots on the north side of 179th street were bid in at $2,700 and $2,750, that were bought at the sale for $2,175 and $2,250 respectively. Two on the south side of 179th street were bid in at $2,750 and $2,775 each, that were bought at the sale for $2,200 each. The eight lots thus put up and bid in, were bought in May, 1891, for $20,075, and were bid in at Thursday's sale, at $22,275. The owners have paid taxes and interest for three years, amounting to not less than $1,100 a year, or $3,300 in the aggregate, and could not now obtain $2,200 advance on the prices of 1891. When Washington Heights people will cease agitating for elevated railroads and will lend their help to pulling through the municipal-construction-underground-road project they may expect more agreeable results from their speculations. The property is not now available and its market value rests only on the prospect of its being rendered available for town-house improvement, by rapid transit, some time in the future.

The College place widening and extension proceeding has at last reached a conclusion. The last report of the commission of estimate and assessment, a synopsis of which was published in THE RECORD AND GUIDE, has been approved and confirmed by the Special Term of the Supreme Court. There is some talk of an appeal by aggrieved owners, but the chances of success for such a proceeding are so few that they are not likely to be taken.

We understand that the North 3d avenue lots, sold at auction last week, are subject to a restriction to the effect that all buildings thereon must stand back 5 feet from the house line. Originally some ten blocks on the west side of the avenue, from 138th to 148th street, belonged to Jordan L. Mott, and before its division and sale the restriction was attached. If the houses have to be kept back as stated, experts say the figures realized at last week's sale are very high.

As the result of a conference between the Mason Builders' Association and the Board of Delegates of the building trades, the schedule of hours and wages of 1893-4 has been continued to 1894-5, except that the men have consented to return to bi-weekly instead of weekly pay days. This settles the labor question, so far as the bricklayers and stoneworkers are concerned, until May 1, 1895.

* * * *

Contracts have recently been made for steel beams at 1 6-10 cents per pound, and for cast iron columns at $28 per ton. Offers have been made to deliver a large quantity of steel beams at 1½ cents per pound. It is said in this connection that some of the steel mills are able to make money on beams at these prices. The lowest price at which foreign steel beams could be landed here, duty free, is 1¼ cents per pound.

MORTGAGES.

N.B.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: the first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

Mathew J. McMunigle sub-contracted with Gundlach & Koch, carpenters, of 1868 3d avenue, to lay the floor in the building he has liened. The contractors, upon being paid for laying the floor, left. McMunigle, on the ground that he had not been paid by the contractors, filed the lien. I have been compelled to pay his men. I have begun proceedings to annul the lien. HENRY C. IRONS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

On April 26th Julia Henschel, sub-contractor, filed lien against Frank E Cabus, contractor, on Richard K Fox Building, Nos. 338 and 340 Pearl street. The contract between them does not call for payment before completion of work. Henschel's work is not completed, and a lien against her interest was filed by The Wheeling Corrugating Co on March 10, 1894. Mr. Cabus offered her $500 on account of his contract (though not legally obliged to do so) on condition that she raise the last-named lien. She refused and thereupon filed the lien first mentioned. In due time it will be bonded and canceled by order of the Court.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, MAY 5, 1894.

THE Agricultural Department at Vienna reports that wheat has passed the winter splendidly in Austria; drought and daily frosts have damaged rye in many places; the prospects for hay are not good; hops are in good condition, and, while the weather was good for sowing spring wheat, there has been no rain to develop the seed. Railroad returns for Austro-Hungary in the first two weeks of this year increased 6 per cent, compared with the same time last year, the increase being due only to a small extent to increased mileage. Austrian exports of sugar are becoming more and more confined to the refined article. New York & Putnam (late New York City & Northern) 4 per cent bonds to the amount of $3,500,000, guaranteed by New Central, are being offered in London at 105. The Jarvis-Conklin Mortgage Trust Company's plan of reorganization is meeting with opposition on the part of some British creditors, who cannot reconcile the first statement of the company that it would be able to meet all claims if time were given it, with a proposition to withdraw from some of its guarantees and to reduce the interest on others from 5½ to 3 per cent. The fact that a better return can be got from the Post-office Savings Bank than from ordinary banks is said to have caused English depositors to favor the former recently, so that deposits with the Government increased nearly $5,000,000 in four weeks. The British Government's attempt to control railroad rates embodied in the Railway and Canal Traffic Act which came into force last year, is proving a failure. The railway companies attemped to change the maximum allowed in each case and thereby raised such an agitation that they have reverted to the old rates pending a new revision. This goes to prove the futility of any government attempting to arbitrarily adjudicate on the multitudinous questions that arise between shipper and carrier on questions of rates. The French customs returns for March record an increase on the total of $15,400,000, the items show that trade is improving generally. The Farmers' Alliance or agricultural interest in Prussia has met a prompt and proper set back in the defeat in Parliament by an overwhelming majority of about three to one, of the bill to give the Government a monopoly of imports of cereals and to fix minimum prices at which it should sell. The orders sent into Germany from Russia as a result of the commercial treaty between the two countries are falling off for the time being, and consequently business is not so brisk as it was, and a desire to sell securities has grown up. The Berlin Chamber of Commerce has flatly declined to support a movement to secure the removal of the additional duty on petroleum imported in tanks which favors importations in barrels, on the ground that imports in tanks are made only by the German-American Petroleum Company, which seeks to obtain a monopoly and is therefore undeserving of support or encouragement. The official announcement that there was no intention of reopening the Indian mints to the free coinage of silver, while a set back for silver, makes it all the more interesting to know how India will meet her obligations abroad in the face of the great declines in her exports.

THE architects of the city have been disappointed of the orders they expected when the spring building season was approaching and of course now they can only contemplate a very dull summer. Unfortunately the absence of work on the boards is unusually marked. There never was a time probably in the history of the city when the architects were so free of plans in process of execution as now—the number of the architects and the size of the city being taken into account. Early in the spring one architect of prominence said that that was the first time in over a quarter of a century's practice that no work whatever was going up under his direction. There are many others who are now pretty much in the same condition. How this may be is shown in our statistics relating to new applications for buildings filed with the Building Department. It is a remarkable fact and one that fully discloses the situation that in only one week of the seventeen reported upon already for this year did the estimated cost of buildings for which applications were filed exceed that of the applications filed in the same week of last year. In all other instances the week of this year compares not only disadvantageously with the same week last year, but the disparity is very great. In the totals this is conspicuously the case, not only in the number of buildings projected and their estimated cost, but also in the average estimated cost. From January 1, 1893, to April 28, 1893, applications were filed for 963 buildings, estimated to cost $23,226,213, or an average of $24,333. From January 1, 1894, to April 27, 1894, applications were filed for 785 buildings, to cost $14,378,715, or an average of $18,317. This year we see the number of applications has been reduced by 178, the estimated cost by $8,847,498, and the average estimated cost by $6,016. In view of these figures it is not surprising that architects have so little work for draughtsmen as is now the case.

Brooklyn Real Estate Notes.

Auctioneer Peter F. Meyer, who is going to sell a large block of Bay Ridge lots at the Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, on the 22d inst., is an old acquaintance to buyers in this vicinity. In the course of the last fifteen years he has sold, he says, in the neighborhood of 5,000 lots on the Park slope, in Gowanus and in the west end of the Eighth Ward. Speaking yesterday of the results of these sales, he said: "People have taken $5 out for every dollar they invested at those sales. Lots that sold for from five and six hundred are now worth as many thousands. That's on 3d avenue, of course; but property in the side streets has advanced just as much in proportion. Then it was difficult of access, now you can reach it by elevated and electric roads and two ferries."

Auctioneer William Cole will sell on Thursday next, May 10th, at the Real Estate Exchange, Nos. 189 and 191 Montague street, Brooklyn, the Oakley Stables property, 44x129.1x44.5x122.5, Nos. 21 and 33 Hoyt street, between Fulton and Livingston streets; $24,000 of the purchase money may remain on bond and mortgage. At the same time and place he will also sell the four-story and basement brick and stone dwelling, 16.5½x50x97.3½, No. 210 South 9th street.

Builders—Brooklyn.

Work is about to commence on the Andrews M. E. Church, designed by Weary & Kramer, of New York. It will be constructed of brick and stone, 60x100 feet, built on the Renaissance style of architecture. The interior will be finished in hardwood, elaborately frescoed and all windows of stained glass; cost, about $30,000.

Philip Steingotter will erect four frame flats, 25x62 feet each, on the southeast corner of Bushwick avenue and Pilling street. They will contain all improvements, tiled vestibules, electric bells, etc., and cost $4,500 each.

E. H. Bishop, the builder, has commenced excavating for five more three-story and basement, high grade stone front dwellings, adjoining the first on the south side of Decatur street, west of Stuyvesant avenue. They will be 20x48 and 52 feet in size and will contain all the latest improvements, including exposed sanitary plumbing, etc., and hot-air heating. The interiors will be finished throughout in hardwoods, with parquet floors in dining and bath-rooms, electric bells, lighters and burglar alarms. They will cost about $11,000 each. M. J. Dahlander was the architect.

Work is soon to commence on the chapel and parsonage, to be erected for the Embury Methodist Episcopal Church. The design prepared by Parfitt Bros. calls for a church, chapel and parsonage, to be erected on the southeast corner of Lewis avenue and Decatur street, on a plot 100x155 feet. The structure will be built of Roman brick buff in color, Lake Superior sandstone and Long Meadow brownstone, with a trimming of terra cotta, finished with a red tiled roof. The structure will contain a large Sunday-school room, infant's class room, pastor's study, women's parlors, dining-room, storerooms, etc. Steam heat will be used throughout, and the most approved method of ventilation will be adopted. The entire structure will cost about $100,000.

William B. Tubby, of New York, has prepared sketches for the new Wallabout Market, for the Advisory Committee, consisting of Eugene G. Blackford, Andrew D. Baird, Henry Batterman and Henry A. Powell. The sketch calls for a two-story building, of Romanesque design, 200x100 feet in size, to be erected on the block bounded by Flushing, Washington and East avenues and South street. It is to be built of Colaburg brick, stone and iron, with red tiled roof. The eaves will overhang so as to cover the sidewalk and form an arcade extending around the four sides of the block. The lower story will be divided into stores, 25x50 feet each, those on Washington street being marked by arched doorways, with large show windows on each side.

I. D. Reynolds & Son have plans for a two-story brick extension, 16x29 feet, to be added to the rear of the four-story brownstone dwelling, No. 47 8th avenue, for James Hannon. It will contain laundry, dining-room and butler's pantry. The interior will be trimmed in hardwood throughout and be heated by hot air; cost, $4,000.

Monsignor May, Pastor of Holy Trinity Church, on Montrose avenue, near Ewen street, is getting ready to build a parish building adjoining the church, to cost about $50,000.

Work is about to be resumed on the apartment house started last summer on the northeast corner of Decatur street and Stuyvesant avenue from plans prepared by Col. E. F. Gaylor. The building will be constructed of washed brick with red sandstone trimmings, 100x100 feet in size and six-story and basement in height, with a central court, 40x40 feet, and apartments for twenty-four families. The design comprises the Moorish, Swiss and Spanish styles of architecture. The interior arrangements will include the latest ideas in style and finish, including steam heat, electric light, two electric elevators, etc. The basements will contain four steam laundries for use of tenants, billiard rooms and bowling alleys. The cost will be about $200,000.

John J. Petit is preparing plans for a two-story and attic frame Colonial cottage, 25x52 feet, to be erected on Newkirk, near Ocean avenue, for S. W. Giles. It will contain the latest improvements and hot-air heating. A feature will be a hall or living room, 21x24 feet, with beam ceiling columns, open fireplace, etc., finished in hardwood and Colonial in all its details; also plans for a two-story and attic frame Colonial cottage, 30x36 feet, to be erected on Newkirk, near Ocean avenue, for P. W. Logan. The interior will be finished in hardwood and contain all improvements and hot-air heating. S. T. Sherwood has the contract to build.

F. O. Peterson will erect two four-story fancy brick and stone flats on 7th street, 107.10 feet west of 6th avenue. They will contain all improvements and cost about $13,000 each.

H. L. Spicer has prepared plans for four four-story brick flats, with stores, to be erected on the northwest corner of Huntington and Henry streets, for John Caufield. They will contain all improvements and cost $7,000 each.

Emil Lahrian will erect two four-story brick and brownstone double flats, 25x78 feet each, on the south side of Rodney street, 100 feet west of Marcy avenue. They will contain all improvements, and cost $9,000 each.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—More or less irregularity has prevailed on the market for Common Hards, out of which sellers do not seem to have extracted any special benefit. Indeed, while the top line of valuation remains as before, grades just off finest have sold at a small shading, and many receivers say that while they have "heard" that $5 was exceeded, they are without power to prove it from their own deals. Arrivals have been larger and more general as to quality, including the finest makes on the river down to "lammies," but by constant pushing most of the stuff is worked off, and at the present writing the unsold surplus is probably only a trifle greater than one week ago.

There is considered to be quite enough, however, as actual consumption is not forward and buyers will not invest until actual necessity arises. From the character of the arrivals already noted, it is evident that many of the yards have cleaned up and more general progress made toward new work, although a check has come this week in the strike of workmen at the "Up River" yards, who refuse a reduction of 20c. per day in wages. According to most accounts manufacturers do not seem to care much, and in the present condition of trade are most likely to let the men remain out if they feel so inclined.

CEMENT.—Reports regarding business in domestic grades are irregular, some operators claiming an increase, others a falling off. It is evident, however, that buyers are neither plentiful or anxious, as common at this time of the year, and very few, if any, mills are working up to their average run of production. Cost remains about steady, although in some cases where opportunity to close a full deal is presented buyers get some advantages. Foreign stock has secured more attention, and agents for some of the most popular brands report a really satisfactory trade, both with local and outside custom. The latter promises to increase more rapidly, with the opening of inland navigation to assist, although there is already a pretty large quantity of stock collected at Western points on hold over lots. It might be well to keep an eye on the Canadian markets, as they have been selling a great deal of stock to the interior this spring, and are offering parcels to arrive inside of $2 for both English and Belgian. There was said to be a stock of about 5,000 bbls in Montreal last week. Within the past week or two arrivals here have been quite liberal.

GLASS.—In all general particulars the conditions of market for window glass remain much the same as last advised. Small jobbers, retailers, paint dealers, hardware people, country druggists, carpenters and all who handle moderate quantities for distribution into channels of consumption have been buying to fill out assortments, and the reflection of that demand was quickly felt all the way through the market on account of the small stocks. Already, however, signs of a diminished call are noticeable in some quarters as the result of the cautious policy rigorously adhered to, which leads to prompt withdrawal of buyers the moment they have secured a working supply. Present first-hand offerings are moderate, but there are intimations that production will be run up somewhat before the annual stoppage of work, about fifty pots having been added last month. Indeed some of the trade claim that there is no real scarcity of small sizes and express a belief that unless consumption expands more rapidly than at present there will be enough to last until autumn. Prices generally remain about as last named and pretty steady. Of large sizes cylinder glass there is undoubtedly a scanty stock, and that, it is believed, will help plate to a considerable extent, and indeed the influence is already felt by some dealers. The tone is firm on plate at 70 and 10 discount.

LATH.—There does not appear to be any change in valuation or condition of the market. Some arrivals have taken place and receivers found means to get rid of them without undue exertion, and think they could have handled a few more, but were unable to catch buyers where an advanced bid could be drawn. Indeed, where quality was not up to standard, as in the case of round wood stock, the figure had to be kept easy to reach successful negotiation.

LIME.—There is no change in the market worthy of note. Some buyers are inclined to give the preference to State and Virginia stock wherever they can, but the low cost and known quality of the Maine product is a big attraction at the moment for those who may have use for stock. There is not, however, a very large amount of custom laying around loose just now and business keeps behind a seasonable average on all outlets. Arrivals were slightly larger during the week, but receiver's seemed to think they can take care of them without difficulty. Quotations are unchanged.

LUMBER.—With none of the former impediments as yet removed the gain in trade is naturally slow and our market presents few really new features developed since last writing. In various ways consumption increases as the season progresses, but dealers who now make note of and favorable comment on every fresh order received would in ordinary seasons consider the gain as commonplace and unimportant. The selections made are of an ordinary character, both for building and manufacturing purposes, showing that the use of supplies is principally routine, and lumber, like every other article of merchandise, has no demand except such as may be stimulated by the urgent requirements of the moment.

For bulk parcels the seller in pretty much all cases has to inaugurate and carry along negotiations and many of the best efforts are doomed to disappointment, and that too where buyers are unable to raise any important objections to the tenders made them. But it is not a matter of cost or difficulty in obtaining assortments that prevents investments, the drawback being found simply in the universal adherence to conservative methods while awaiting a return of confidence in commercial and financial circles.

Eastern spruce remains in much the same general condition for some time advised, except possibly that a little random stuff of good average specification could be placed without any great difficulty. It is a long while since any considerable amount came to hand and, although the distribution has been light, there are a few yards here and there into which a fresh assortment could be worked to good advantage. Some special bills are offered for considerations and where containing nothing very difficult are placed without much delay. Cargo rates are about as before, and the yard list is supposed to be sustained. Not much has been done thus far in State spruce, but dealers in that particular grade express themselves confidently and seem to think it will open and hold quite on a par with the rates of last fall. Virginia spruce is offered with less freedom in consequence of the pretty large orders already booked by many manufacturers, some, it is said, having about their entire productive capacity under engagement. Those who still seek trade find it necessary to keep rates low, as present buyers will only close when they can do so upon a plane quite as cheap as that at which their competitors invested.

Hemlock finds uncertain attention here and some operators complain that country customs having secured a fair working assortment is now disposed to stand off again. Reports differ somewhat as to the attitude of manufacturers, but from experience of the local trade there is stock enough available at primal points for all wants, and no noticeable objection to acceptance of about former rates. Carolina Pine has a fair sort of regular trade here and more or less call from the Eastward, with some stock already sold to go up into this State as soon as the canals are open. The wants of buyers are met promptly enough, and while the market is called steady extreme figures are rarely insisted upon.

White Pine of ordinary quality meets with fair consuming demand, and as dealers are not overwell stocked they can now and then be induced to purchase renewals. They ask for previous rates and generally get them. Export orders are few and far between, with a great deal of stock awaiting better foreign trade. Yellow Pine has not changed much in general characteristics, but agents insist that there will be a good trade and a decidedly healthier market just as soon as the commercial situation shapes up upon a more confident basis.

Hardwoods are having a slow market and there is not much encouragement to hope for any early improvement. Manufacturers are working up their reserves for such little production as they may have under way, and only occasionally find it necessary to come upon the open market, but energetic salesmen find it possible to place fair quantities of stock, from time to time, when they can offer attractive terms. Poplar is believed to have been placed a little more freely of late, but upon a lower line of value than indicated by the list rates. In whatever consumption may take place this year, quartered oak will probably have a good share, but the most careful cuts are likely to be insisted upon. Red birch is also upon promising ground, as it makes an excellent substitute for cherry and mahogany. There is a hopeful report in regard to cypress, from those who have it on hand, but some who have tried to use it to advantage do not speak quite so cheerfully. Choice black walnut, suited to foreign trade, will be wanted to a fair extent and exports of late noted have contained a number of parcels of maple and ash.

In last week's issue of THE RECORD AND GUIDE was given a detailed account of the organization of the Building Trades' Exchange of this city, accompanied by a list of members of such strong calibre as to practically insure the full success of the undertaking. Additional membership is desired, however, and right there seems to be a chance for our lumbermen and especially the wholesale portion of the trade, to get in on the ground floor of an institution that can be made of immense service to them, as well as to all branches of business connected with the production and sale of structural material. The statement of the Provisional Committee, published on page 661 of our issue of April 28th, covers a good general idea of what it is intended to accomplish, and contains some most excellent suggestions, and the scope of the Exchange can readily be extended to serve the interest and requirements of all branches of trade that may legitimately be accepted in membership.

The second annual meeting of the National Association of Wholesale Lumber Dealers commenced in Buffalo May 3d. The day's sessions were devoted to routine business. New officers were elected as follows: President, John Robinson, of Buffalo; First Vice-President, R. H. Jenks, of Cleveland; Second Vice-President, E. M. Price, of New York; Treasurer, A. C. Tuxbury, of Tonawanda.

At the opening of the State Canal on Tuesday it is claimed that there were at least one-third more boats locked in at Albany this time than there were when the season opened last year. Upwards of 300,000 tons of merchandise were carried into the canal, which shows an increase of 50 per cent over the same period in 1893.

NAILS.—An unsettled condition of trade is apparent with considerable fault-finding among operators. Consumption has not made the expansion expected this spring, and it is found from some of the second-hand offerings that previous pretty liberal purchases of nails were speculative, with holders not particularly well prepared to carry their investments in the face of a dull trade. We quote Cut at 95c.@$1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.10 @1.20 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.00@1.10 for car lots, and $1.20@1.30 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—The market, as a whole, remains in much the same condition as last advised, except possibly showing a further small gain in the volume of trading. Such goods as litharge, Paris green, etc., used for manufacturing purposes, insect destroyers and other methods of consumption outside the ordinary run, have in particular sold with greater freedom, but all standard lines of paints or colors, dry or in oil, find a trifle more custom, especially with localities recently favored in way of modified transportation charges. Prices are benefited to extent of finding declining tendencies checked, yet are not fully settled to uniform basis and the cuts on leads prevail as for some time past. Corroders' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 6½c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 5.94c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 5¾c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c., and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil retains very fair demand from all regular custom and sellers find no additional source of complaint. Supplies are ample, but of the better qualities by no means liberal and the general line of valuation stands as before. We quote at 48@50c. for Western, 52@53c. for City from domestic seed and 58@60c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine shows no really new features. The demand from all sources has been moderate, and, although offerings were only fair, the general tone has been easy and cost is off a trifle. We quote at 30@31c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—The market works along without the development of new features or tendencies of a radical character. Consumption in some instances is said to nearly equal last season, but that is exceptional, the average keeping about as much behind as for a week past. Offerings equal the needs of trade, and about former rates ruling. We quote Tar at $1.75@1.80 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.25@2.30 in pork bbls., and $3.25@3.30 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

WITH SUPPLEMENT.

THE week has developed nothing to change the business outlook. In dry-goods, iron and the other great departments of manufactures there is about trade enough, in conjunction with the constant hope of manufacturers that an improvement in demand may spring up to maintain prices at the basis that has prevailed for some time. The government crop report failed to influence either the cotton or grain markets, principally because other reports contradicted it, and the government report has for some time ceased to have any weight as against private expert and State official reports. The stock market is probably the dullest of all the markets of the country. Even professional operations, based on the news from Washington, are small, and of investment buying there is none either in stocks or bonds. What news there is favors the bears. The demoralization of rates everywhere, with consequent declines in railroad earnings, gold exports and labor troubles operate against prices of railroad issues, and while the Industrials can be influenced by tariff news from time to time there can be no solidity to any advance that is made in them for the simple reason that representing purely trading concerns they cannot be doing well when all the rest of the country is doing comparatively nothing. In this connection it is of interest to notice the statement made by the United States Cordage Company to the New York Stock Exchange, which shows that the working capital of $3,000,000 raised by assessments on the two classes of old stock has already diminished by $500,000 although the new company is but now issuing its securities. The continued outflow of gold threatens the Treasury gold surplus seriously and if sentiment in regard to that matter has not changed it will soon be necessary to make a new issue of bonds in order to avoid greater mischief. Among the causes of the gold shipments, there is one that has apparently escaped notice entirely and that is the falling off in immigration. Every immigrant landing here enriches this country by the amount of his pecuniary resources, every cent of which helps to change the unseen balance of trade. Eighteen months ago, we produced a series of calculations showing that each immigrant had money resources of about twenty dollars, and it will be seen that with immigration at a standstill there is also a great falling off in the foreign money coming into the country that goes directly to offset demands on us from abroad.

AS the details of the subscription to the new City of Paris loan come to hand, the speculative element therein accounts for the extraordinary oversubscription, amounting to nearly eighty-four times the face of the loan. Forty million dollars were asked for, and subscribers for four bonds or under were to be served without reduction, the deposit on favored subscriptions was $10 per bond of $80 nominal and $70 net, no further payment being required until November next. The bonds rose to a premium of from $3 to $4 before issue, consequently on a deposit of $40 from $12 to $16 could be made immediately by assignment of the allotment as soon as made. Thousands who could not pay for the bonds outright joined in the subscription solely to realize the premium, and that in a great measure accounts for the fact that the subscriptions reached the almost incredible total of $3,394,000,000. Others were doubtless attracted by the lottery part of the loan, which provides for the distribution of $160,000 annually in four drawings. Had there been no premium and no lottery attractions the loan would certainly have been oversubscribed by bona fide investors, simply because it presents a better use for money than could be obtained at the banks, but probably not more so than other municipal and government loans have been. All the great French railroads show an increase of earnings in the first quarter of the year over the same time in 1893. The railways of Great Britain, Germany and Austria are also increasing their receipts. In the present world-wide disturbance of labor the report from London that socialistic murderous rant is rewarded with corporeal punishment at the hands of the workingmen to whom it is addressed is the cheeriest thing possible; besides the encouragement to be found in this attitude of any body of workingmen, the picture of a would-be destroyer of organized government squealing for the despised police to protect him from a good and deserved thumping is a joke of the richest hue. The idea of a cable across the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans via the Canadian Pacific railways is expected to take definite shape at a conference to be held at Ottawa some time next month. The enterprise is intended as a blow at the existing ocean cable monopolies. The tax and other legislative restrictions on bourse transactions in Berlin is said to be the cause of sending a great deal of business to London, Paris, Vienna and Brussels which would otherwise be transacted by the Berlin bankers and brokers. These drawbacks also affected the subscription to the imperial three per cent loan of $40,000,000, which, however, was subscribed three times over notwithstanding the indifference of the speculators. Business throughout Germany continues to be generally dull. The production of German sugar is 12.9 per cent greater for the first four months of this year compared with a like period of last year. Rains in Austria and Hungary have materially improved the outlook for the grain crop, wheat especially is said to be in exceptionally fine condition; hay that had been despaired of now promises a good harvest. The arrangements for the commercial treaty between Austria and Russia are proceeding satisfactorily.

Private Property.—IX.*

BY RICHARD T. ELY, UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN.

THE FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF PRIVATE PROPERTY.

THERE is one most important class of enterprises with respect to which it is necessary to follow either the first or the second line of development to which reference has been made. Either they must become public property in every respect, or it is necessary to develop to the utmost extreme the social side of private property. These enterprises are the well-known natural monopolies, which have been so often and so well discussed in THE RECORD AND GUIDE. They are railways, telegraphs, telephones, electric lighting plants, gas plants, water works, municipal rapid transit systems and the like. As the control and the protection which competition affords the public are wanting, they must be regulated by public authority and regulated either as public or as private property. Experience during many years in many lands has shown that we have no other alternative. Different countries are inclined to follow different methods. The German method is public ownership with the public control, which naturally and spontaneously results therefrom. The other method is the French method, which allows private property in these undertakings, but which carries public control so far that private property loses many of its ordinary attributes. England, in recent years, seems inclined to follow the German method, which we might perhaps call the Teutonic method. The United State has, until very recently at any rate, been inclined to follow the French method. Perhaps at the present time no country goes further than the United States in interference with private property of this sort.

What shall we say with respect to these two methods? Neither method is altogether easy. Modern life has many serious problems, look at it as we will. No conceivable plan of social organization can enable us to escape these entirely. The tasks which modern civilization sets are extremely complicated, and their solution requires the best efforts of the best minds. While the first line of development, namely the substitution of private for public property with public management, offers difficulties and has itself many imperfections, it would seem to be much better than the second line of development, so far as enterprises are concerned which require an extreme amount of control, that is to say, interference with the management of private property. There are many reasons for this. Special skill and enterprise are likely to be on the side of the private enterprises which are always corporate in character. This must be so, as special skill and experience are acquired in the management of these enterprises. It is always likely then that the public would be worsted in its efforts to control through its own agents private property of such magnitude and importance. Take the case of an electric company which supplies services like light and transportation in cities throughout the country. This company has its trained and skillful attorneys who become acquainted with every detail of the business and give their whole time to pleading its cause. They argue essentially the same case over and over again. One of these attorneys approaches a municipal council with reference to a franchise for a street railway. The members of this municipal council, even if we grant that they are perfectly honest and upright, are at a disadvantage, because, in all probability, they have not had their attention called to business of this sort in such a way as to familiarize them with its nature. Every question they can ask the attorney has heard before and every objection they can urge to his plan has been encountered by him repeatedly. He is prepared to give a plausible reason for everything which he wants. But this is only the beginning of difficulties. We have assumed that all the members of the municipal council were honest and upright. This is an assumption which is unwarranted under existing conditions. If there are dishonest members of the municipal council, there will be a strong temptation to offer them money to induce them to give away public rights. But even this presents only a minor difficulty, relatively speaking. The control exercised by the public in the case of enterprises which are monopolies is continuous. The public virtually says to the owners of railways and like enterprises: "These are your private property; but you must manage them not in a manner well pleasing to you, but well pleasing to me. Every day in the year and every hour in the day, I shall endeavor to direct your course of action." Naturally, there is an effort on the part of persons who are forced to do things which they do not desire to do to escape from this control and this produces action of many sorts which are most injurious. We have taken the case of a municipal council already elected before the private company comes to ask for a franchise. As a matter of fact, companies of this sort take a hand in politics in order to secure the return of members of municipal councils, legislatures and congress who will be favorable to them, or who may be made favorable to them. The action of corporations engaged in services of a monopolistic character results in disreputable legislative bodies. The man who will deny this either falsifies or has the innocence of a child with regard to our public life. When the students of the University of Wisconsin, in preparation for the joint debate on public ownership of municipal monopolies, wrote to the mayors of various cities, asking whether private corporations, furnishing services of the kind under consideration, interfered in politics, the testimony received was most interesting, and it was quite generally to the effect that there was such interference. The mayor of one of the largest cities in the country wrote after the question as to whether these companies were in politics or not, "Yes! yes! yes!" The result of this is political corruption of such magnitude that many become pessimistic. This political corruption cannot be explained by the general character of the American public, unless we are willing to admit that we are less moral than a people like the Germans; but it is the natural result of causes not difficult to discover. Yet even this is not all. If private property is to produce its natural benefits, its manager must have large discretion. Private property produces its benefits in energetic, whole-souled activity on the part of the private owner. If at every turn in the management of property I must do the bidding of some one else, I am not likely to put my best efforts into the management. It is not probable that I will exert my faculties to the utmost, because I cannot well enter into the spirit of this management which is dictated to me from above. It would seem then that both the purification of government and sound management must decide in favor of public ownership and management, rather than private ownership and management in cases of the sort under consideration.

It has already been stated that private property has its social as well as its individual side. The argument for it is that it promotes the public welfare, as we have already seen. Its use is social as well as individual. We may indeed say, in a way, that it has a public use. How then, it may be asked, can we take the position that it is objectionable to allow private ownership in railways and the like enterprises and to develop further than we have done the social side of private property in these undertakings? The answer is not difficult when one reflects upon the nature of various industrial undertakings. Private property, if it fulfills its true functions, must spontaneously, or at any rate easily serve social purposes. Let us take the case of agricultural land. There is, comparatively speaking, little interference with the farmer in the pursuit of his occupation. We do not tell him, as a rule, what he must sow or plant, or when he must sow or plant. We allow him to do whatever he sees fit. Yet in managing his property as he sees fit he promotes the interest of society. What does the farmer want, when he looks upon farming from his own standpoint? He desires large crops with comparatively small expenditure of labor and capital. This is also what society as a whole must desire. It is to the interest of society that it should have an abundant supply of material goods of a desirable quality with the smallest output of economic energy practicable. If we take one branch of farming after another, it will be found that there is general harmony between the interests of the individual farmer and the interests of society. There may be even now some instances in which a general regulation is in the interest of society; but they are comparatively very few. Should it ever be possible for the farmers to combine their efforts in such manner that in the sale of their commodities they could act as a unit, the situation would be quite different. There would be then the widest divergence between their interests as a class and the interest of the rest of society. But such a combination is scarcely conceivable.

Taxation may be taken to represent the social side of private property. This indeed affords difficulties, but it does not involve the constant and incessant interference with private management of private property. As a rule, the chief inconvenience in the payment of taxes is simply that one must part with a given sum of money. Inheritance taxes are of special importance when one comes to develop the social side of private property. But while they do imply a great deal of interference with private property and a certain regulation of it they come only once in a generation.

It has been claimed that manufacturing enterprises, when they become vast in the extent of their operations, have, in some respects, public functions in a peculiar degree. It has been pointed out that when, in their operations, they cease to move forward regularly great harm results to society as a whole. There are, on the one hand, the owners of stock in the undertaking and, on the other, great masses of workingmen who depend upon their earnings for their support and the support of their families. Then, besides, there are the outside interests, because the product of such a manufacturing establishment is used in many other undertakings. All this has a special bearing upon strikes and lockouts. If it is true that some interference on the part of the public is called for in enterprises of this kind, this would not cover the whole field of their operations, but would only imply an interference between employer and employed on comparatively rare occasions. This interference would naturally take place through boards of arbitration and conciliation, which would endeavor to reduce the interference always to a minimum. It is evident then that in enterprises of this kind the argument for public ownership does not hold.

A BILL was passed in both branches of the Legislature, a few days before the final adjournment, which aims to destroy in a large degree one of the most important provisions in the present building law, that of the requirement to inclose elevator shafts with walls of brick or other fire-proof materials. A bill was introduced at Albany amending one of the sections of the building law so as to require two receptacles for ashes and garbage instead of one in such houses as the Board of Health may select. There was no serious objection to such an amendment, and the bill was duly reported from committee and put on its order of third reading in the Assembly. When the bill was being voted on a member of Assembly from Kings County moved the insertion of a new section to the bill, which in effect requires that elevators when operated by water from high pressure street mains need not be inclosed in brick walls, and the bill passed, as thus amended, without comment, and on the following day was put through the Senate. This elevator amendment was in the nature of sneak legislation, and was not intended to, nor could it bear investigation and discussion. It is said to be in the interest of parties who last year got a somewhat notorious pneumatic tube law on the statute books, and who now desire to extend their special privileges. It is hardly necessary to say that it is not the motive power, be it steam, electricity, or water, which runs the hoisting machinery that plays any important part in the dangers connected with elevators from fire. It is the greasy guide posts up and down which the car slides that carries flames from the bottom of an elevator shaft to the extreme top with almost lightning rapidity and sets fire to every intervening floor along the whole height. An inclosure of wood or other inflammable materials around the shaft only adds to the fire, and the building in a few minutes is a mass of flames on every story. A brick inclosure makes of the shaft a substantial chimney, and through the thin skylight on top, which every such inclosure is required to have, the heated air, gases and flames pass out, leaving a reasonably good chance for the firemen to save the building from total destruction even in the case of a severe fire in any part of the structure. Chief Bonner has declared that the most important provision ever incorporated in a building law is the provision that elevator shafts shall be inclosed with brick walls. Yet a bill that would wipe out such a requirement from the New York law at this hour lacks only the Governor's signature to become a law. Vigorous protests from influential quarters have been filed in the Executive Chamber against any such proposed change to the present building law, and it is not very likely that Governor Flower will give his approval to the bill in question, without which approval the bill will fail to become a law.

A New Landmark on the Harlem.

FORMAL DEDICATION OF THE WEBB ACADEMY AND HOME FOR SHIPBUILDERS.

The most conspicuous building on the heights overlooking the Harlem River from the east bank, the Webb Academy and Home for Shipbuilders, was formally dedicated, with imposing ceremonies, on Saturday afternoon last. It occupies one of the highest points in the section of the 24th Ward known as Fordham Heights, on Sedgwick avenue, and commands a sublime landscape, including the winding valley of the Harlem, Washington Heights, Riverdale Ridge, Kingsbridge, glimpses of the Hudson, the Palisades, and the upper sections of New York City. It is an ideal location for such an institution.

The structure is of five stories, with lofty corner towers and broad verandas, built of buff brick, stone and terra cotta. It is designed to furnish homes for sixty old shipbuilders and their wives, in the south or Home portion, and that in the Academy section sixty young men shall be instructed in the science of shipbuilding in all its branches, including marine engine building.

William H. Webb, a man who achieved the highest distinction in the active years of his life as an American shipbuilder, and an ample fortune in the business, is the founder and first President of the institution. The other officers are Vice-President Stevenson Taylor; Treasurer Thomas F. Rowland, with other trustees, Herbert Lawrence, George Rowland, J. O. Poillon, Albert G. Bogert, Frederick R. Hutton, Merritt Trimble, Henry Steers, Andrew Reed, Charles H. Cramp and Thomas S. Marvel, and the Secretary, Stephen M. Wright.

All these and many friends of the institution and its founder were present at the exercises, which were held at the Home.

WEBBS ACADEMY AND HOME FOR SHIPBUILDERS.

Bishop Potter invoked the divine blessing upon the institution, and there were addresses by Mr. Webb, Vice-President Taylor, Bishop Potter, the Rev. Dr. Robert Collyer, Joseph H. Choate, George F. Roesch and Shipwright W. H. Helme. Mr. Webb, in the course of his remarks, expressed the pleasure it gave him to make such use of his fortune. In his boyhood he had sadly felt the necessity of an institution where shipbuilding could be learned, both theoretically and practically, and he had then resolved to supply this crying need to the youth of America, should it ever come within his power.

He then detailed the conditions of the trust deed by which he had turned over $2,000,000 in money value, and informed his hearers that he had transferred valuable parcels of improved real estate in this city and Westchester County, with the cordial co-operation of Mrs. Webb, to the trustees of the institution. This property is estimated to exceed in value a million dollars, and yields a large revenue in which Mr. Webb retains a life interest only. After the formal exercises luncheon was served, and the buildings were thrown open for inspection.

The Sketch Club of New York.

NEW YORK, May 5, 1894.

The regular monthly meeting and dinner of the Sketch Club was held at the club-rooms Saturday evening. Thirty-one members and four guests were present, President Edgar A. Josselyn occupied the chair. Mr. D. H. Haig, the guest of the Club, gave a very interesting address on the chemical properties of plaster, the manufacture of lime and plaster of Paris. After this ex-President Julius A. Harder read a paper on designing, giving some very practical views on this subject which were highly appreciated by the members.

In response to a request from the American Institute of Architects for suggestions as to rules governing competitions, the following resolutions, referring to such points only as directly affect our (draughtsmen's) interests, were adopted:

"Whereas, competitions being the principal medium through which the younger and unknown men may gain recognition, be it therefore

"Resolved—1. That we believe that all competitions should be open except when paid competitors are selected by means of an open preliminary competition, similar to that of the Brooklyn Institute. 2. That competitive drawings should be of the simplest character possible."

The meeting adjourned at 11.15.

H. C. PITTMAN, Recording Secretary.

The Building Trades' Exchange.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ORGANIZED—STEPS TAKEN TO SECURE A SITE AND PLANS FOR THE NEW BUILDING.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the new Building Trades' Exchange was held on Friday week at the Building Trades' Club, in 23d street, for the purposes of organization. All the members of the committee were present, as follows: Warren A. Conover, Charles A. Cowen, Augustus Meyers, John J. Roberts, Ronald Taylor, Geo. Moore Smith, James B. Mulry, Clarence W. Gaylor, Theodore W. Morris, Charles W. Iden, Andrew J. Campbell, Henry K. S. Williams, John A. Murray, Charles T. Galloway and Matthew C. Henry, and the officers of the Exchange—President Tucker, Vice-President Outwater, Secretary Wright, and Treasurer Hopper, ex-officio. Mr. Conover was elected chairman of the committee, and the subject of further organization was immediately taken in hand.

The informal discussion following developed such a positive conviction in the minds of the committee that the movement was on the highway to success, that it was unanimously decided to begin at once to consider important matters of site and character of building, and therefore it directed its chairman to appoint committees for such purpose, whereupon he appointed as a Committee on site:

Messrs. Charles A. Cowen, Charles T. Galloway, Henry K. S. Williams, Theodore W. Morris and Ronald Taylor; and as a Committee on plan and scope of building, Messrs. Augustus Meyers, Geo. Moore Smith, Matthew C. Henry, John J. Roberts and James B. Mulry.

These Committees will immediately enter upon the discharge of their duties and no doubt will have considerable information to report at the meeting of the Executive Committee, which is to be held on the 18th inst.

Secretary Wright, in an interview, expressed himself as exceedingly sanguine of the success of the undertaking; he said that never within the period of his identification with the work had he seen so much positive interest manifested, or the subject so fervent a topic of conversation. Subscriptions are coming from unexpected sources, and the prospectus is being asked for continuously. With the new provision which enables the present subscribers, after a given time, to increase their own subscriptions he expressed the conviction that by the time the site is selected and the plan adopted the whole of the $400,000 will be in hand.

Real Estate Appraisements.

THE NEW YORK BUILDING AND LAND APPRAISEMENT COMPANY.

The examination of titles, the loaning of money upon bond and mortgage and the issuance of bonds of suretyship having all of late years passed into the hands of strong and heavily capitalized institutions, created under the laws of this and other States expressly for the transaction of such business, and the superiority of corporate methods having been fully demonstrated by thoroughgoing practical experience, it is inevitable, as well as desirable, that there should be from time to time further progress upon similar lines in regard to kindred matters. The adage which declares that "in union there is strength" is a very old one, but it was never so fully understood or so widely appreciated as at the present day. Such reflections as these naturally suggest themselves upon an examination of the facts in regard to the new and important organization recently incorporated under the laws of this State with the title of the New York Building and Land Appraisement Company, and having offices in the Havemeyer Building, Room 104, corner of Church, Dey and Cortlandt streets. This is the first company ever established in this country in this particular line of business to appraise and value real estate of every kind, improved or unimproved, and issue formal certificates of such valuation or appraisal.

The need of a reliable medium through which the accurate value of real estate can be obtained has long been recognized in professional and business circles, and to this end this Company has been organized by men who are actively engaged in erecting buildings, who have an intimate knowledge of the laws relating to buildings and who also have a direct knowledge of and facilities for determining the value of lots as well as the buildings thereon. The character of buildings in New York has so very greatly changed in late years that the correct appraisement of the value of modern structures has gone beyond the capacity of single individuals, and calls for the united judgment of several experts.

The usefulness of an organization proposing to undertake such work as this must of necessity depend upon the experience and standing of the men who are identified with it. And in this respect the new company is remarkably strong, as will be seen from the following list of names:

Samuel McMillan, President.
Cornelius O'Reilly, Vice-President.
William J. Fryer, Secretary and Treasurer.

Directors: Samuel McMillan, Cornelius O'Reilly, William J. Fryer, Thomas J. Brady, Warren A. Conover and John W. Murray.

All these gentlemen bring to bear long practical experience in connection with real estate affairs. Mr. McMillan is a well-known property owner, member of the Real Estate Exchange and a builder. Mr. O'Reilly is a well-known builder, member of the New York State Building Law Commission, and has large interests in the Storage Warehouse business. Mr. Fryer is the Chairman of the New York State Building Law Commission, a member of the Board of Examiners in the Department of Buildings and an experienced architect. Mr. Brady is widely known as the Superintendent of the New York City Building Department. Mr. Conover is a well-known builder who has built some of the finest buildings in New York City, one of which is the Postal Building, northwest corner Broadway and Murray street. Mr. Murray is the Vice-President of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company and the Vice-President of the German-American Insurance Company of New York.

It will be seen that in the Board there is not a single member who is not an expert and a man of the highest reputation. It needs no argument to prove how much more satisfactory an appraisement by such an institution must be than any that can be made by private individuals.

The directors intend that every certificate of appraised value issued by this Company shall be accurate and reliable. This Company now tenders its services to Executors, Trustees, Guardians, Attorneys, Owners, intending purchasers, sellers, loaners and all others who may require appraisements of real estate.

The scale of prices for appraising property in New York city will be found to be very reasonable, and is as follows:

On valuations amounting to $25,000 and under, per lot.....$10 00
On valuations exceeding $25,000, and not exceeding $50,000, per lot..... 15 00
On valuations exceeding $50,000, and not exceeding $100,000, per lot..... 25 00
On valuations exceeding $100,000, by agreement.

There is a great field for the new company, and with such ability and character at the back of it there can be no question as to the beneficial results both for the public and the company.—(Communicated).

Machine-Made Lime Mortar.

FOR BRICKLAYING AND PLASTERING.

The manufacture of lime mortar for both bricklaying and plastering and its delivery at the building anywhere in New York City, Brooklyn and Jersey City, and under special contract for large quantities in the adjoining cities and towns in cart loads containing 27 cubic feet, in a WET AND PLASTIC condition, ready for use without the addition of any other material or manipulation whatever, excepting occasionally a little water for retempering, as is now done by the United States Mortar Supply Company, of 289-4th avenue, New York City, marks the greatest improvement that has been made in building operations in recent years. MACHINE-MADE LIME MORTAR is not a new "patent plaster," but the old, well-known and thoroughly tested lime mortar made by machinery by practical and experienced men in a scientific and systematic way, instead of the present crude, inconvenient and more or less unreliable method with a hoe. It positively contains no material not used in lime mortar made by hand. The best quicklime is thoroughly slaked in especially designed slacking machines, and the lime paste run through fine screens into the receiving vats. When ready for use it is conveyed to the lime paste measuring hoppers. Clean, sharp, silicious Cow Bay sand is not ground but screened down to one-eighth (1/8) of an inch fine for the brick-work and one-eighth to three-sixteenths for the plastering mortar through punched steel plates, which do not spread open and let coarser gravel through as do the hand-wire screens. The best goat hair is thoroughly whipped and freed from all lumps and foreign substances, and the various kinds of fibre cut into proper lengths and separated.

The lime paste, fine screened sand, goat hair or fibre, and pure, fresh water, all the best materials carefully prepared and correctly proportioned for the different kinds of mortar, come together at the head of the mixing machine in which they are thoroughly incorporated and mixed together. A conveying machine distributes the different kinds of mortar into the proper bins, where it is stored, mellowed and ripened before shipment. It is then loaded on barges carrying 500 tons, which are towed to the pier nearest the building to be supplied and transferred to the carts and delivered as required from day to day in a wet and plastic condition ready for use. Good lime mortar is the best, most durable, healthful and economical of all plastering materials, as its successful and continued use for centuries has proven and established. It is the ONLY plastering material on the market whose value and merits have been tested and proven by long experience. All other plastering materials are recent innovations, which have only been in use from five to six years, not long enough to have their good qualities proven nor the damage done by the bad qualities fully realized. All those interested in building operations fully appreciate the many and serious objections to the use of lime mortar as made by hand. It is inconvenient, takes up more room around the building than all the other operations combined, costs more and delays the completion of the building when made in the cellar, is more or less unreliable in quality, and its frequent popping and blistering causes great subsequent expense and annoyance. MACHINE-MADE LIME MORTAR removes all these objections to lime mortar as made by hand. The use of MACHINE-MADE MORTAR advances the completion of large and costly buildings in the lower and crowded sections of New York City and Brooklyn, as its use in the Corn Exchange Bank, Beaver and William streets, New York City, has proven. The completion of this building was advanced five weeks by the use of MACHINE-MADE MORTAR for plastering by not necessarily occupying the cellar space in making and storing the mortar, thereby delaying the plumbing, the installation of the steam and electric plants, etc. This advantage was also proven in its use for plastering the Home Life Insurance Company's Building, Broadway, near Murray street, where MACHINE-MADE MORTAR was substituted for a well-known "patent plaster," because of its superior qualities, greater economy, and from the valuable fact that this costly building could be completed in less time by the use of MACHINE-MADE MORTAR.

The Manhattan Life Insurance Company's Building, Nos. 68 and 70 Broadway, is also a well-established example of the advantages of MACHINE-MADE MORTAR in advancing the completion of large, important and costly buildings. All those engaged in building operations will readily appreciate the many advantages of MACHINE-MADE MORTAR as a plastering material.

1. It is better, cheaper and more convenient than hand-made mortar or patent plasters.

2. It is guaranteed not to "pop" or blister, thereby saving subsequent expense and annoyance.

3. It will not stain or discolor decorations, nor rust or corrode metallic substances, as it is a well-established fact that lime preserves metallic substances.

4. Being delivered on order, ready for use, it is especially convenient and economical for alteration and repair work.

5. It saves extra expense when mortar has to be made in the cellars of buildings.

6. It saves space around the building, giving more room for the other building operations, thereby reducing the cost of same.

7. Being always correctly proportioned and thoroughly mixed it makes a harder wall and its smoothness caused it to be applied more rapidly.

Its advantages as a bricklaying mortar are owing to its freedom from coarse gravel or lumps of unslacked lime, so common in the hand-made mortar, thereby saving great waste, both of mortar and time, and its smoothness causing it to spread more easily, enables the mason and bricklayer to perform his work with more ease, comfort and dispatch, all of which has been proven by actual use. Those who have used it find a saving in first cost of from 15 to 20 cents per 1,000 bricks, and a further saving in waste, both of mortar and time.

The merits of lime mortar are too well known and established to need any more arguments in its favor, and MACHINE-MADE LIME MORTAR by removing all the objections to lime mortar as made by hand is the perfection of plastering material, as proved by its use in such buildings as the Manhattan Life, Home Life, Corn Exchange Bank, Bowery Savings Bank, the Bank for Savings, Seton Hospital, Life Building, Schermerhorn, New York Hospital, House of Relief and Post Graduate Hospital, Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry's mansion and many others, and by its adoption for the new St. Luke's Hospital, all noted examples of the very best modern practice, both as to construction and materials used. MACHINE-MADE LIME MORTAR having proven and established its merits and advantages by its use in the above-mentioned and many other buildings, its general adoption for both bricklaying and plastering is now simply a question of its cost as compared with hand-made mortar and the various patent plasters. Builders and plasterers who have used it must find it to their interest to do so, as they continue to use it, and many of the leading architects, after a thorough trial of it, have specified "MACHINE-MADE MORTAR" for a great number of large and important buildings recently let to contract, and for many others for which plans are in preparation.

Owners, architects, builders and plasterers, before specifying and contracting for their bricklaying and plastering materials, will find it to their interest to fully investigate the merits and costs of MACHINE-MADE MORTAR, for in addition to its many advantages and superior quality they will find its use will save them considerable money, which was never more desirable than in these hard times.—(Communicated.)

Questions and Answers.

LANDLORD AND TENANT LAWS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

You would confer a great favor upon some of your subscribers if you would kindly give them a synopsis of the Landlord and Tenant law applicable to the City of Brooklyn, especially about monthly tenants. B. D.

Answer.—You request that we should undertake a large contract. Webster defines a synopsis to be a "general view." Judge David McAdam's treatise on Landlord and Tenant, which is a general view of the law, is a work in two volumes of 1,058 pages. The provision of the Code of Civil Procedure relative to "summary proceedings to recover the possession of real property," alone comprise thirty-five sections, which would make nearly four pages of THE RECORD AND GUIDE. If, instead of a general you desire a special view, we will be pleased to give it to you at any time; that is to say, will answer any specific question as to law or procedure.—LAW EDITOR.

There is real provocation for the writing of a "boom" review of the real estate market this week, as an inspection of our gossip columns will testify. The volume of business consummated has been beyond the expectations of all the brokers and observers, and it has been of a very wholesome and encouraging character. Nearly all sections of the city are embraced in the list, and some of the transactions will result in important building operations. While the mere swapping of equities continues to be a prominent feature of the reports, some of the larger transactions are out and out purchases for investment and improvement, and that is the kind of business that always begets more business. A fact that is full of significance is that three or four brokers have received commissions from Western investors to buy first-class income-producing property for them. The only thing to regret in the situation, as it appears to-day, is that owners will gain inflated notions of the values of their properties and will put prohibitory prices upon them. A man who has a good piece of productive property has some justification for such a course. But non-productive property is not investment property and is not now in active demand. Some recent auction sales have demonstrated that fact conclusively. There is a fair prospect now for a good run of business for five or six weeks, but it can only be had by mutual concessions, such as have obtained this week, on the part of buyers and sellers alike.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1893 and 1894.

Reports were current yesterday in real estate circles that Mr. Peter F. Meyer would at night resign his office as Treasurer of Tammany Hall. Mr. Croker, who, as most real estate people are aware, became connected with Mr. Meyer in the auction and brokerage business, under the firm-name of Peter F. Meyer & Co. about a year ago, resigned all official connection with Tammany Hall on Thursday night. Mr. Meyer said yesterday that it was Mr. Croker's intention to devote himself closely hereafter to the real estate and auction business; that he would be found every day at the firm's offices, No. 111 Broadway.

Property owners and residents in the vicinity of the foul slough that penetrates the North Side from the Harlem River, and is commonly known as the Mott Haven Canal, are again loudly complaining against it. The last Legislature authorized an appropriation of $30,000 for a steel bridge to span its murky waters at 138th street, which is the only crossing south of 144th street. The canal is an obstacle to traffic across town throughout its course, and a crushing handicap on realty values throughout the entire district drained by it. People are unanimous in the opinion that the best public use that could be made of it would be to fill it up and use it for an outlet sewer and a new street. The interest of a few persons who obtain a small income from dockage along its course are the only opposition, but the public health is beginning to be affected by the foul odors arising from the canal, and it is proposed to operate through the Health Board for the suppression of the canal as a public nuisance. Its removal would improve the tone of the entire neighborhood and greatly increase the values of neighboring property.

Some comparisons of the business transacted during the first four months of last year by the Daily News Savings and Building Loan Association with the first four months of this year show that however badly the hard times have generally affected business there have been some exceptions. In the period named 206 new members joined in 1893, and 422 in 1894; the withdrawals, which ought to be most severe in hard times, were 244 in number and $45,652 in amount in 1893, and 200 in number and $34,149 in amount in 1894; new loans numbered 9, for $30,500 in 1893, and 22, for $54,309 in 1894. Finally, the general receipts were $98,535 in 1893, and $121,421 in 1894. The association's assets amount to over $490,000.

Grymes Hill, sold by R. V. Harnett & Co. at auction, was the property of James Child McAndrew, formerly agent for the Bank of Montreal here. He is now residing near London, where he has bought a large estate.

One well-known Harlem broker's list of houses unrented on May 1, contained about sixty-five houses renting at from $1,200 to $1,800, of which not more than four or five have been leased up to date. This is a very telling illustration of the disappointing results of the last renting season.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

We notice in THE REAL ESTATE RECORD of May 5, that you have reported the property Nos. 205 and 207 East 14th street, as sold to J. W. Collolly. In your next issue kindly see that this error is corrected as both properties were bid in. SMYTH & RYAN.

A special meeting of the West End Association will likely be called within two weeks to consider a report of the Committee on Laws, Legislation and Schools relative to Restrictions on Land. The idea is to place before the Constitutional Convention the entire matter of restrictions for the purpose of ascertaining if it is possible to provide against unsuitable and injurious improvements to real estate against the wishes of surrounding owners.

S. B. Livingston has retired from the secretaryship of the German-American Real Estate Title and Guarantee Co. to resume the practice of the law.

Special Notices.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company has opened an up-town branch office at the northeast corner of Columbus avenue and 72d street, where it will be represented by Mr. C. C. Dickinson, in the office of Messrs. L. J. Phillips & Co. It is hoped and believed that this new departure will prove a convenience to the real estate and building fraternities of the West Side, in facilitating for them the examination and insurance of titles, making of loans, etc.

The new office buildings on Maiden lane have been in demand, with the result that they are very nearly fully rented. The Sheldon Building has but few vacancies and the Diamond Exchange is about three-quarters full.

Some of the co-operative building and loan associations are experiencing a lack of good applications for loans. The Daily News Association has had to reject the larger portion of its recent applications and now reports a considerable accumulation of loanable funds. It is supposed that the facts are quite otherwise with some of the associations, and with a view to increasing the efficiency of all it has been proposed to establish a clearing bureau, through which the officers of the various associations may learn of a surplus of either money or loans in other associations as they occur.

Borgstede & Klenke have opened a branch office in Harlem, at Nos. 143 to 147 East 125th street, where they propose to devote especial attention to 23d and 24th Ward and Harlem property. Their main office continues at Nos 207 and 209 East 54th street. Borgstede & Klenke, besides their general real estate business, are agents for several fire and plate glass insurance companies, and are the Harlem managers for the United States Life Insurance Co.

REMOVAL NOTICES.

The requirements of an increasing business have necessitated the removal of John P. Kirwan, the successful and energetic broker and agent, of No. 402 West 51st street, to larger and more centrally located quarters at No. 841 8th avenue, near 51st street. The new office is commodious, handsomely furnished and decorated throughout, and supplied with all conveniences, including the telephone. It is within easy distance of the "L" station at 53d street, and many street car lines pass by and near the door. Mr. Kirwan is extending his agency business, besides increasing his facilities for selling realty and negotiating loans. His down-town offices continue at No. 60 Cedar street.

The firm of Ware & Gibbs, who have been so successful this spring negotiating sales of West Side realty, both improved and unimproved, are constantly adding to their agency business, to which department, including the collection of rents, they pay special attention. Their office is conveniently located at No. 451 Columbus avenue, near the 81st street station of the "L" road. Both Mr. Ware and Mr. Gibbs are experienced brokers and agents, and they give personal attention to all business intrusted to them.

Albert W. J. Petrie, real estate and insurance broker, has removed his office from No. 124 East 11th street to the Postal Telegraph Building, No. 253 Broadway, Room 421. Mr. Petrie is a member of the Real Estate Exchange and makes a specialty of selling first mortgages on improved property and managing estates.

Mr. Otto Pullich's real estate office at No. 179 Columbus avenue, corner of 68th street, is one of the best known in that vicinity. Mr. Pullich has lately been increasing the facilities of his selling department, and is now prepared to offer lists of desirable properties for investment, homes or improvement to intending purchasers.

The firm of Hunt & Wendell, real estate brokers, at No. 245 Columbus avenue, was dissolved by limitation of partnership, on the 1st inst., Mr. Wendell retiring. Col. J. Hamilton Hunt will continue the business at the same location, giving special attention, as in the past, to West Side residence, business and investment property.

Broker H. H. Bliss has moved from No. 79 Cedar street, to bright and commodious offices in the Havemeyer building, No. 26 Cortlandt street.

In both buildings what would have been very disastrous fires were extinguished without great loss because the elevator shafts were of Bailey's Material. Architects, builders, contractors and owners who contemplate erecting elevator shafts, ceilings, partitions, roofs and floors, and pent-houses on the roofs of buildings, should first communicate with Mr. Bailey, at No. 277 Broadway, corner of Chambers street.

Workmen are tearing down the four-story building on the north side of Houston street, midway between Mulberry and Mott streets, which was a well-known place of amusement in war times when the next block in Houston street was known as "Murderers' Row." The building was called "Dramatic Hall" for twenty years after the war, although it degenerated to a dance hall, with a bar-room on the first floor, and regular theatrical performances disappeared from the place forever. Several years ago it was turned into a cheap lodging house and became the nightly abode of an army of tramps, fairly earning the significant name of "Scratch Hall." It became such a breeding place for disease that the Health Board revoked its license. In late years it had been occupied as a furniture warehouse. A seven-story business structure is to be erected on the site of the old building.—Tribune.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.
